Ms. XXXXX,

Good afternoon. My name is _____ and I work at the Department of Defense Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Office. I want to thank you and your daughter for her Service. I am sorry that she was assaulted during her deployment on the USS Neversail. Survivors often credit their healing to the support received by family and friends.

I would like your permission to forward your email to the Navy's Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Office and to the Navy's Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Program Manager. I would like to make them aware of your concerns and let them know what happen to your daughter in order to help prevent future assaults. If your daughter did not file an Unrestricted Report of sexual assault and is interested in filing one now, the Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Program Manager would be able to assist her.

A resource that your daughter may find helpful is the DoD Safe Helpline (safehelpline.org) which provides a 24/7 confidential chat. She can talk to a trained crisis person anytime of the day. She may find this helpful in the middle of night when she is unable to sleep.

Please let me know if I can be of further assistance.
