OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR

SIPP-241005(L)

Dear Resident:

I am writing to thank you for helping the U.S. Census Bureau collect data for the Survey of Income and Program Participation a few months ago and to explain that your continued participation in the survey is important and appreciated. Within a few days, a Census Bureau field representative will contact you again.

This survey is used to make decisions about programs that affect millions of people in the United States. For example, policymakers use the survey's results for many purposes, including children's health insurance programs and evaluating the future needs of the social security system. The Census Bureau needs your help to collect accurate data so policymakers can plan important government programs. Your participation in the survey is important; however, you may decline to answer any questions.

All the information the Census Bureau collects for this survey about you and your household is required by law to be kept strictly confidential (Title 13, United States Code, Section 9). Every Census Bureau employee—including the Director, as well as every field representative—has taken an oath and is subject to a prison term, a fine, or both, if he or she discloses any information that identifies you or your household.

Additional information is explained on the back of this letter. You may also learn more at our Web site: <www.sipp.census.gov/sipp/>.

Thank you for your cooperation. I am grateful for your help.

Sincerely,

Charles Louis Kincannon
Director
U.S. Census Bureau

Why does the U.S. Census Bureau collect this information?

Although we conduct a census every ten years, some information needs to be updated more often. This survey provides current data about a variety of important issues, such as changes people have experienced in their jobs, health insurance coverage, and medical expenditures; the well-being of children and adults; childcare and child support status; retirement and pension planning; participation in government programs; and other information. Since the country changes rapidly, up-to-date facts are necessary in order to create effective programs. Policymakers in government and private organizations need current economic information to make informed decisions about programs that will affect people of all income levels. Your voluntary participation is essential for ensuring that this survey's results are complete and accurate.

How do I know the Census Bureau will protect my information?

The law authorizes the Census Bureau to collect information for this survey (Title 13, United States Code, Section 182). Section 9 of this law requires us to keep all information about you and your household strictly confidential. The Census Bureau will use this information only for statistical purposes. Everyone who has access to your responses is subject to a prison term, a fine up to $250,000, or both, if any information is revealed that identifies you or your household.

How will the Census Bureau use the information that I provide?

Because Title 13 guarantees the confidentiality of your information, the Census Bureau will combine the information you provide with that of others to produce statistics. The Census Bureau does attempt to obtain information you may have given to other agencies if you have participated in other government programs. We do so because it helps make sure your data are complete, and because it reduces the number of questions you are asked on this survey. The same confidentiality laws that protect your survey answers also protect any additional information we collect (Title 13, United States Code, Section 9).

How much time will the survey take?

We estimate that it will take about 30 minutes per person to collect the information. This includes time for reviewing instructions and completing and reviewing your answers. After the initial interview, we will conduct a follow-up interview periodically, in order to learn how people's economic situations change over time. You may send comments regarding time estimates or any other aspect of this data collection process, including suggestions for reducing this burden, to: Paperwork Reduction Project 0607-0905, U.S. Census Bureau, 4700 Silver Hill Road, Stop 1500, Washington, DC 20233-1500. You may also e-mail comments to <Paperwork@census.gov>; use "Paperwork Project 0607-0905" as the subject.

The Office of Management and Budget (OMB) approved this survey and gave it OMB approval number 0607-0905. The survey-taker will display this number so that you will know it is an authorized survey. Please use this number in any correspondence concerning this survey.
