Dear <<name>>,

A few days from now you will receive a survey in the mail from Integrated Resource Solutions requesting that you provide your thoughts on the important topic of wildfire. This survey concerns the experience of people like you and your thoughts on managing wildfire risks.

With your valuable contribution, the results of this survey will provide important input into how homeowners manage the risks of wildfire. Our findings will help decision makers and homeowners better understand the human aspects of managing wildfire risks.

Thank you for your time and consideration. It is only with the generous help of people like you that this project can be successful.

Best regards,

Wade E. Martin
