

Informed Health Care Choices

Informed Health Care Choices

Informed health care choice is an important topic for MCOs, practitioners and consumers; however, measures previously collected were retired due to methodological questions and changing clinical guidelines, and currently there are no measures in this domain.

