Study to Explore Early Development Three Day Diet Diary

Thank you for your time and effort in this study. The following is a diary to keep track of what your child consumes during the week of the stool collection. Please be as detailed as possible in the spaces provided for the most accurate analysis of your child's diet. Be sure to include any vitamins, herbs or other supplements. If your child spikes a temperature or seems to get the stomach flu please discontinue the food diary. Please document if this week's intake was typical on the last day of recording.

Complete your diet record including details as in the example below:
