Public reporting burden for this collection of information, including the Preceptor Selection Verification form, is estimated to average 480 minutes per response, including the time for reviewing instructions, searching existing data sources, gathering and maintaining the data needed, and completing and reviewing the collection of information. An agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to, a collection of information unless it displays a currently valid OMB control number. Send comments regarding this burden estimate or any other aspect of this collection of information, including suggestions for reducing this burden, to: NIH, Project Clearance Branch, 6705 Rockledge Drive, MSC 7974, Bethesda, MD 20892-7974., ATTN: PRA (0925-0378). Do not return the completed form to this address.

10. Type of career planned, research, academic objectives

Provide your research plan. Give short statements and use the following format:

1. Hypothesis/Specific Aims
2. Background and Significance
3. Research Design and Methods
4. Possible Outcomes/Alternative Approaches

These sections should not exceed 3 pages or 12,000 characters (total).

11. What special training or experience do you seek at NIH?

How will this experience relate to pharmacology? Give a short statement of the significance of your training and the proposed research, and how it will prepare you to contribute to or advance the field of pharmacology.

This answer should not exceed 1 page or 4,000 characters.

- The applicant should discuss his/her plans and prepare these sections in consultation with an approved PRAT preceptor. While collaboration with the sponsor is important, the responses should be written by the applicant.
- Provide sufficient detail in order to be evaluated for scientific merit and for training potential. Eligible preceptors and descriptions of their laboratory research can be found in the PRAT Program brochure.
- Applications submitted without the preceptor's prior approval will not be accepted.
