(c) Item Description

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) prohibits discrimination in all its programs and activities on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, disability, and where applicable, sex, marital status, familial status, parental status, religion, sexual orientation, genetic information, political beliefs, reprisal, or because all or part of an individual's income is derived from any public assistance program. (Not all prohibited bases apply to all programs.) Persons with disabilities who require alternative means for communication of program information (Braille, large print, audiotape, etc.) should contact USDA's TARGET Center at (202) 720-2600 (voice and TDD). To file a complaint of discrimination, write to USDA, Director, Office of Civil Rights, 1400 Independence Avenue, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20250-9410, or call (800) 795-3272 (voice) or (202) 720-6382 (TDD). USDA is an equal opportunity provider and employer.

3. If the Government takes custodial possession of the collateral, the Borrower agrees that:

(a) The Government may incur such expenses as it deems necessary to cultivate or harvest any growing crops or to maintain the value of, protect, preserve, keep, care for, transport, or sell any collateral surrendered by the agreement; and that any expenditures made or incurred by the Government for any such purposes, together with interest, from the date of the expenditures, at the same rate as that specified in any note executed by the Borrower in favor of the Government, shall become an indebtedness of the Borrower to the Government.

(b) The Government may sell the collateral either at a private sale or at public auction, the manner and place of sale to be at the discretion of the government and that it may bid at any such sale. The Government may execute a bill of sale or other conveyance for any such collateral sold at any such sale. If any of the collateral is sold at a private sale, the Government agrees not to sell it for less than the minimum price, except that perishable collateral will be sold privately for the best cash price obtainable. Farm commodities such as grain, cotton, or tobacco, etc., for which there is a local established market, will be sold at a private sale for a cash price in line with current market quotations for commodities of similar grade, type, or other recognized classification. If the collateral is sold at public sale, the agreed minimum sale price has no application and the collateral may be sold to the highest bidder.

(c) The Government agrees to exert its best efforts, but shall not be required to sell the collateral within 30 days from the date of this agreement or to care for the collateral pending the sale.

(d) The Borrower agrees that any loss resulting from the death, spoliation, deterioration, damage, disappearance, or theft of any of such collateral shall be borne by the Borrower, except when such loss is due to the negligence or positive wrongful act of any agent of the Government or of a caretaker in whose custody such collateral has been placed by the Government pending sale. The Government shall determine when such negligence or wrongful act exists and the amount of the loss and such determination shall be conclusive. In such cases, the Government will pay an amount equal to the loss sustained for application in accordance with the priorities established in paragraph 4. The Borrower releases and forever discharges the Government from liability for any and all claims of every nature whatsoever in connection with the handling, care, and sale by the Government of the collateral, except the obligation of the Government to distribute the sale proceeds as provided in paragraph 4.

(e) If the Government holds a sale at public auction, it may employ a licensed auctioneer and pay the auctioneer's fees out of the proceeds of the sale.

4. The Borrower and the Government agree that the proceeds of such sale will be applied in payment of (a) first, the expenses of conducting the sale, including any cost of advertising and search of lien records, or the reimbursement of the Government for any such expenditures as it may have made or incurred; (b) second, the expense of cultivation, harvest, protection, preservation, transportation, custody, care, storage, preparation for sale and any tests or inspections required by law of the property, pending the sale, or the reimbursement of the Government for any such expenditures as it may have made or incurred; (d) third, secured claims in the order of their priority; (d) fourth, any other indebtedness of the Borrower, owed to or insured by the Government, which is unsecured or is secured by liens on other property; and (e) fifth, the balance, if any, to the Borrower.

5. The debt is all immediately due and payable upon the signing of this form by the Borrower and the Government.

6. Nothing contained in this agreement shall be construed to release the Borrower or any other party from liability for any deficiency owing to the Government after application of the proceeds as provided in this agreement. Any such deficiency shall be immediately due and payable.

7. In the event the Borrower agrees to sell the collateral at either a private sale or public auction and has not done so within 60 days of this agreement, the Government may take the necessary action to foreclose on the collateral to collect the debt.

8. The term "Borrower" shall be construed to include the heirs, successors, administrators, executors, assigns, agents, and principals of the Borrowers.
