SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. What Should I Consider as I Prepare My Comments for EPA?

A. Considerations Under the Paperwork Reduction Act

Pursuant to section 3506(c)(2)(A) of the PRA, EPA specifically solicits comments and information to enable it to:

1. Evaluate whether the proposed collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the functions of the Agency, including whether the information will have practical utility. Guidance issued by OMB states that the term "practical utility" refers to the usefulness of information (considering its accuracy, adequacy, and reliability) to carry out the Agency's functions in a timely manner.
2. Evaluate the accuracy of the Agency's estimates of the burden of the proposed collection of information, including the validity of the methodology and assumptions used.
3. Enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected.
4. Minimize the burden of the collection of information on those who are to respond, including through the use of appropriate automated electronic, mechanical, or other technological collection techniques or other forms of information technology, e.g., permitting electronic submission of responses. In particular, EPA is requesting comments from very small businesses (those that employ less than 25) on examples of specific additional efforts that EPA could make to reduce the paperwork burden for very small businesses affected by this collection.

B. Tips for Preparing Your Comments

You may find the following suggestions helpful for preparing your comments:

1. Explain your views as clearly as possible and provide specific examples.
2. Describe any assumptions that you used.
3. Provide copies of any technical information and/or data you used that support your views.
4. If you estimate potential burden or costs, explain how you arrived at the estimate that you provide.
5. Provide specific examples to illustrate your concerns.
6. Offer alternative ways to improve the collection activity.
7. Make sure to submit your comments by the deadline identified under DATES.
8. To ensure proper receipt by EPA, be sure to identify the docket ID number assigned to this action in the subject line on the first page of your response. You may also provide the name, date, and Federal Register citation.

C. Submitting CBI

Do not submit this information to EPA through regulations.gov or e-mail. Clearly mark the part or all of the information that you claim to be CBI. For CBI information in a disk or CD ROM that you mail to EPA, mark the outside of the disk or CD ROM as CBI and then identify electronically within the disk or CD ROM the specific information that is claimed as CBI. In addition to one complete version of the comment that includes information claimed as CBI, a copy of the comment that does not contain the information claimed as CBI must be submitted for inclusion in the public docket. Information so marked will not be disclosed except in accordance with procedures set forth in 40 CFR part 2.

II. What Information Collection Activity or ICR Does this Action Apply to?

Affected entities: Entities potentially affected by this ICR are manufacturers, importers, and processors of nanoscale materials. Using the North American Industrial Classification System (NAICS) codes to assist you and others in determining whether this action might apply to certain entities, potentially affected entities may include, but are not limited to:

- Chemical manufacturers, importers, and processors (NAICS code 325), e.g., persons who manufacture (defined by TSCA to include import) or process chemical substances.

Title: Information Collection in Support of EPA's Stewardship Program for Nanoscale Materials.

ICR numbers: EPA ICR No. 2250.01, OMB Control No. 2070-new.

ICR status: This ICR is for a new information collection activity. An Agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to, a collection of information, unless it displays a currently valid OMB control number. After approval by OMB, the OMB control number for this ICR will be displayed by publication in the Federal Register and by the inclusion of the paperwork reduction notice in the optional form and instructions.

Abstract: EPA intends to initiate a voluntary information collection to assemble all known or reasonably ascertainable information from manufacturers, importers, and processors of nanoscale materials who are participating in the voluntary Stewardship Program for Nanoscale Materials. EPA also intends to collaborate with participating manufacturers, importers, and processors of nanoscale materials, and other stakeholders in an effort to generate more detailed information of certain specific nanoscale materials. Under this second effort OPPT and program participants will work together to generate data and analyses that will more fully characterize certain nanoscale materials and to increase understanding of the environmental health and safety implications of manufactured nanoscale materials.

This data collection will facilitate and support EPA's voluntary Stewardship Program for Nanoscale Materials and complement EPA's new and existing chemical programs under TSCA. These data will also help provide a firmer scientific foundation for regulatory decisions by encouraging the development of key scientific information and appropriate risk management practices for nanoscale chemical substances.

Burden statement: The annual public reporting and recordkeeping burden for this collection of information is estimated to average 833 hours per response. This estimate assumes that the response involves all potential activities in the Nanoscale Materials Stewardship Program described in the ICR. Not all participants in the Nanoscale Materials Stewardship Program are expected to participate in the "in-depth" component of the program. Under the PRA, "burden" means the total time, effort, or financial resources expended by persons to generate, maintain, retain, or disclose or provide information to or for a Federal Agency. This includes the time needed to review instructions; develop, acquire, install, and utilize technology and systems for the purposes of collecting, validating, and verifying information, processing and maintaining information, and disclosing and providing information; adjust the existing ways to comply with any previously applicable instructions and requirements which have subsequently changed; train personnel to be able to respond to a collection of information; search data sources; complete and review the collection of information; and transmit or otherwise disclose the information.

The ICR provides a detailed explanation of the activities and estimated burden, which is only briefly summarized here:

Estimated total number of potential respondents: 615.

Frequency of response: On occasion.

Estimated total average number of annual responses for each respondent: 2.

Estimated total annual burden hours: 24,724 hours.

Estimated total annual costs: $1,271,240.

III. What is the Next Step in the Process for this ICR?

EPA will consider the comments received and amend the ICR as appropriate. Although included as attachments to the ICR, EPA is issuing a separate Federal Register document to solicit public review and comments on two draft documents: "Concept Paper for the Nanoscale Materials Stewardship Program under TSCA" and "TSCA Inventory Status of Nanoscale Substances—General Approach." In addition to considering comments submitted on the ICR, EPA will also consider public comments received on these two documents.

The final ICR package, including the revised attachments, will then be submitted to OMB for review and approval pursuant to 5 CFR 1320.12. At that time, EPA will issue another Federal Register notice pursuant to 5 CFR 1320.5(a)(1)(iv) to announce the submission of the ICR to OMB and the opportunity to submit additional comments to OMB.

If you have any questions about this ICR or the process, please contact the person listed under FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT.
