SPECIFIC QUESTIONS

1. Describe the project and its purpose:

The National Fire Academy regularly surveys students and their supervisors on the long term impacts of NFA training on Fire and EMS departments and organizations. This voluntary survey (O.M.B. No. 1660-0039 - Expires March 31, 2009), formerly paper-based, will now be conducted through the U.S. Fire Administration Web site. Participants will sign-up for the survey on completion of the course. They will provide contact information (name, organization name, phone number, mailing address, and e-mail address) for both themselves and their supervisors. Contact information may be for their physical organization or home, dependent on the student's preference. Participants will then be sent an e-mail 4-6 months after completion of the training to invite them to complete the survey on the U.S. Fire Administration Web site. The survey itself contains questions about how personnel and the fire department overall have benefited from National Fire Academy training. It does not collect personal information.

Contact information is collected from National Fire Academy students in order to send the survey. Submission of information is voluntary.

^{*} Projects can relate to individuals in a number of ways. For example, a project may include a camera for the purpose of watching a physical location. Individuals may walk past the camera and images of those individuals may be recorded. Projects could also relate to individuals in more subtle ways. For example, a project that is focused on detecting radioactivity levels may be sensitive enough to detect whether an individual received chemotherapy.
