OMB #0920-0222; Expiration Date: 02/28/10

Notice - Public reporting burden for this collection of information is estimated to average 60 minutes per response, including time for reviewing instructions, searching existing data sources, gathering and maintaining the data needed, and completing and reviewing the collection of information. An agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to, a collection of information unless it displays a currently valid OMB control number. Send comments regarding this burden estimate or any other aspect of this collection of information, including suggestions for reducing burden to: CDC/ATSDR Reports Clearance Officer; 1600 Clifton Road, MS D-24, Atlanta, GA 30333, ATTN: PRA (0920-0222).

Assurances of Confidentiality - All information which would permit identification of any individual, a practice, or an establishment will be held confidential, will be used only by NCHS staff, contractors, and agents only when required and with necessary controls, and will not be disclosed or released to other persons without the consent of the individual or the establishment in accordance with section 308(d) of the Public Health Service Act (42 USC 242m) and the Confidential Information Protection and Statistical Efficiency Act (PL-107-347).

Introduction to the Audio-CASI/debriefing interview

Instructions to be read: Thank you for coming in today. You have read the Informed Consent form and you agree to take part in this research study. Is that correct? [Interviewer waits for verbal acknowledgment]. You have given your permission for me to tape record your interview today and, if needed, to play it to other people working on this study. Is that correct? [Interviewer waits for verbal acknowledgment].

The work we do here is to make sure that questions used in national surveys are understandable. Today we are testing a set of questions for the National Health and Nutrition Examination Survey. As we have said earlier, some people may consider the questions that we are testing today to be personal.

- First, I want to assure you that we are only interested in finding out if these questions are easy to understand and if everyone understands them the same way. We are NOT specifically interested in your answers to the questions or in your private life.
- Also, I want to re-assure you that what you say in this session will be kept strictly confidential. Confidential means that your name will never be linked to the answers you give. When we write a report, we will not put your name in it. Only relevant staff people will have access to your answers or the audiotapes.
- Also, if for any reason you do not want to answer a question, that is fine. Simply let me know and we'll move on to the next question.

What we are doing today is divided into two parts. In the first part, I will ask you to answer the questions we are testing. Answering the questions involves using this computer— which I will help you get started. You will put the head phones over your ears, and the computer will ask you the questions. You will use the keyboard to give your answer. This will take between approximately 10-15 minutes.

In the second part— after you answer the questions on the computer— I will ask you about your experience answering the questions— how you understood certain questions, interpreted certain words, and whether any of them were difficult to answer, and how you think we could change the questions so more people will understand them.

Is it clear what I'm asking you to do?

Do you have any questions?

..... Ok, then let's begin

[Help participant put on the head phones and begin the audio-CASI questioning]

Note to reviewers: The Audio-CASI has a built-in tutorial to familiarize respondents with the Audio-CASI process.

NHANES Audio-CASI Instrument to be tested

Reactions to Race

Please note that REFUSED and DON'T KNOW are not offered as answer categories for any of the ACASI questions. If a respondent skips a question the following screen appears that says:

"You did not answer the previous question."

It then offers these three choices. The lower case appears on the screen and is read. The upper case indicates what is coded in the data based on whether the respondent selected a, b, or c.

- a. Did you mean to answer.....QUESTION REPEATED
- b. would you prefer not to answer the question.....REFUSED RESPONSE CODED
- c. or don't you know the answer?.....DON'T KNOW RESPONSE CODED

"This next set of questions asks about your health and how other people identify you and treat you. Please remember that your answers to these questions are strictly confidential."

Note to interviewer: When the participant is finished, help them take off the head phones and move the computer to the side.

Debriefing interview

Ok, now I'd like to ask you some questions about your experience answering the questions on the computer, how you understood certain questions, interpreted certain words, and whether any of the questions were difficult to answer, and how you think we could change the questions so more people will understand them. We are NOT interested in your answers to the questions.

Note to Reviewers:

The interviewer will ask emergent probes to better understand the respondent's experience using the headphone/computer set-up as well as the question-response process. Examples of the sorts of probes that may be asked at the interviewer's discretion include:

- First, did you have any problems using the computer to answer the questions?
- Did using the computer with headphones allow you to feel like you could answer the questions honestly?
- Did any of the sections seem particularly sensitive or embarrassing to you? Did it make you feel like not answering the questions? Which section would you say is the most sensitive? The least sensitive?
- Do you think there might be a problem asking these kinds of questions— questions that might potentially embarrass people?
- Could you tell me what [term] means to you?
- In your own words, could you tell me what you think this question is asking?
- How difficult was it for you to think of your answer to this question? Can you tell me more about that?
- How sure are you about your answer?
- Can you tell me anything about [question] that made it hard to understand or to answer accurately?

Ending the interview

In looking at my watch, we are pretty much out of time. Do you have any last thoughts or questions? [If not, proceed]. [Continue recording] I want to thank you for coming today and sharing your thoughts, experiences, and opinions. The information you have provided will be very useful in helping to improve the questionnaire. [Hand the respondent the packet containing the thank-you letter, copy of consent form, and the $40]. In this packet you'll see we have provided you with a copy of the consent form you read prior to the start of our interview. This is for your records [point to consent form]. We have also included a thank-you letter signed by the Director of the National Center for Health Statistics along with the $40 cash incentive we promised [point to thank you letter and envelope containing $40]. Again, thank you for all of your assistance today. [Turn off audio tape recorder at this time]. [Escort respondent out of the interviewing room].
