

Instructions

What Is the Purpose of This Form?

This form is intended for applicants for U.S. citizenship who seek an exception to the English and civics testing requirements for naturalization "because of physical or developmental disability or mental impairment."

What Are the Naturalization Requirements?

Generally, to be eligible for naturalization, an applicant must demonstrate:

Knowledge of the English language including an ability to read, write, and speak words in ordinary usage; and knowledge and understanding of the fundamentals of the history, principles, and form of government of the United States.

To implement these requirements, USCIS administers tests of each applicant's ability to read, write, and speak English words in ordinary usage and to answer basic questions about the government and history of the United States (civics). However, the law allows an exception to the English and civics testing required for naturalization in the case of an applicant who is unable to comply "because of physical or developmental disability, or mental impairment."

Who Should Use This Form?

Applicants for naturalization must submit Form N-648, Medical Certification for Disability Exceptions, along with a completed Form N-400, Application for Naturalization, if they are seeking an exception from the English and civics requirements. Form N-648 is intended for applicants with medical condition(s) that are long-term (lasting 12 months or longer) and so severely debilitating that they are incapable of meeting the English and civics requirements for naturalization. USCIS will evaluate the completed Form N-648 to determine whether the applicant qualifies for an exception from those requirements.

Who Is Not Eligible?

An applicant for naturalization who is capable of learning or demonstrating the required knowledge and understanding of basic English and civics, as explained above, is not eligible for an exception from the English and civics requirements and should not submit this form.

Additionally, an applicant who can meet the English and civics requirements with accommodations should not submit this form. Under the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, USCIS makes reasonable modifications or accommodations to enable applicants with disabilities or impairment(s) to participate in the English and civics testing requirements for naturalization.

Reasonable modifications or accommodations may include but are not limited to: sign language interpreters, extended time for testing, or off-site testing. Applicants who believe that they will need reasonable modification or accommodation to take the tests should refer to Part 3.1 of the Step-by-Step Instructions in the General Instructions of Form N-400.

Who Is Authorized to Complete This Form?

All parts of this form (except for the "Applicant Attestation" in Part I) must be completed by a currently licensed medical doctor, doctor of osteopathy, or clinical psychologist (a "medical professional"). The medical professional must have professional expertise in diagnosing and evaluating an applicant for a physical or developmental disability or impairment that makes the applicant incapable of meeting the English and/or civics requirements for naturalization.

An employee under the direct supervision of the certifying medical professional may, if necessary, fill in the form with information directly provided or verified by the certifying medical professional. However, the certifying medical professional who signs the form under penalty of perjury remains responsible for the accuracy of its contents.

What Qualifications Must a Certifying Medical Professional Have?

The licensed medical professional certifying this form must have training and experience in the field of the applicant's claimed disability or impairments. A medical professional who is not a specialist in the field of the claimed disability or impairments may complete this form only if his or her training, experience, or other qualifications enable him or her to make the disability and/or impairment assessment.

Because only severe and lasting disabilities are eligible for the exception to the naturalization testing requirements, the medical professional who makes the certification should normally be "the treating physician"; that is, the medical professional who has been regularly treating the applicant for the claimed disability or impairment. If the certifying medical professional is not the applicant's regular treating physician, the reason for the substitution should be explained in item 3 of Part II, as well as information regarding the future plan of treatment for the applicant.

What Is Required for a Complete Medical Certification?

The medical professional completing this form must provide an accurate assessment of the applicant's disability or impairment so that USCIS can determine whether the applicant qualifies for an exception from the English and civics requirements for naturalization. The medical professional must provide all of the following:

1. A certified opinion that the applicant is unable, even with reasonable accommodations or modifications, to learn and/or demonstrate the required knowledge of English and/or civics because of the documented medical condition(s). (Items 8 and 9);
2. A certification of the duration of the claimed disability or impairment and whether it is the direct result of the applicant's illegal use of drugs. (Items 10 and 11);
3. A clinical diagnosis and description of the applicant's claimed disability or impairment, a list of medically accepted techniques used to reach the diagnosis, and any applicable DSM-IV-TR code for each mental impairment. (Item 12); and
4. A detailed explanation of the nexus (connection) between the impairment and the applicant's capacity to learn and/or demonstrate the required knowledge and understanding of English and civics. This explanation must include a description of how the claimed disability or impairment resulted from an anatomical, physiological, or psychological abnormality. (Item 13).

If the medical professional does not provide all required information, USCIS may deem the Form N-648 insufficient.

In order to facilitate the adjudication of Form N-648, the medical professional may also submit copies of relevant medical diagnostic reports or records to further substantiate the claim of medical disability indicated on the form. However, note that a supplemental report is not acceptable as a substitute for any of the responses required in Part II of this form.

Examples of Insufficient and Sufficient Responses:

The following examples illustrate acceptable and unacceptable responses regarding diagnosis and nexus. (Items 12 and 13).

The actual medical certification must address the condition of the individual applicant who has been examined.

Example 1:

Insufficient Answer:

Item 12 (Diagnosis): "The patient is a 42-year-old female who suffers from Angelman syndrome, which is a complex genetic disorder that affects the nervous system."

Item 13 (Nexus): "The patient is unable to learn a new language and U.S. history and civics."

(Comment: The doctor failed to articulate how the impairment is related to the applicant's ability to learn or demonstrate knowledge of English and/or U.S. history and government).

Sufficient Answer:

Item 12 (Diagnosis): "The patient is a 42-year-old female who suffers from Angelman syndrome, which is a complex genetic disorder that affects the nervous system, typically with developmental delay or mental retardation, severe speech impairment, seizures, small head size (microcephaly), and problems with movement and balance (ataxia). The resulting delayed mental development was first noticed in this patient at the age of eight months, and she suffered from severe learning disability since childhood."

Item 13 (Nexus): The most common cause of Angelman syndrome is a small deletion (missing piece) of the UBE3A gene in the maternally inherited chromosome 15, either through gene mutation or chromosomal change, causing the person to have no active copies of the gene in the brain. Because of the chromosomal change and the loss of gene function in this patient's brain, she is incapable of learning, remembering, or demonstrating knowledge of English and/or U.S. history and civics.

(Comment: The doctor adequately described the effect of the Angelman syndrome on the patient's cognitive functions and provided a definitive opinion explaining why the patient is unable to learn or demonstrate English and/or civics as a result of it).

Example 2:

Insufficient Response:

Item 12 (Diagnosis): "The patient has Down's Syndrome."

Item 13 (Nexus): "The patient should be exempted from the English language and U.S. civics requirements for citizenship due to his medical condition."

(Comment: The doctor failed to explain how the applicant's condition prevents him from learning or demonstrating knowledge of English and/or civics.)

Sufficient Response:

Item 12 (Diagnosis): "The patient has Down's Syndrome, which is a genetic condition that causes delays in physical and intellectual development. While many individuals with mild to moderate forms of Down Syndrome are capable of daily tasks and working in the community, this patient suffers from a particularly severe form. It was diagnosed in utero through a Chorionic Villus Sampling (CVS). He has an IQ of 50."

Item 13 (Nexus): "The patient's condition is a global, lifelong impairment that severely affects cognition, language, and motor skills. Because of this impairment, his memory is deficient, he cannot learn new skills, and he is not capable of reasoning but only of performing simple daily activities. The patient's severe mental disability makes him incapable of learning a new language (even basic words) and demonstrating the required knowledge of U.S. history and government."

(Comment: The doctor adequately addressed the nexus (connection) between the condition and how it affects the applicant's functioning and ability to learn to demonstrate knowledge of English and/or civics.)

What Are the Penalties for Making False Representations?

Both the applicant and the medical professional are required to attest to the contents of this form under penalty of perjury. Title 18, United States Code, Section 1546, provides:

Whoever knowingly makes under oath, or as permitted under penalty of perjury under Section 1746 of Title 28, United States Code, knowingly subscribes as true, any false statement with respect to a material fact in any application, affidavit, or other document required by the immigration laws or regulations prescribed thereunder, or knowingly presents any such applicant, affidavit, or other document containing any such false statement, shall be fined in accordance with this title or imprisoned not more than ten years or both.

If either the applicant or the medical professional includes in this form any information that the party knows to be false, that person may be liable for criminal prosecution under U.S. laws. In addition to the criminal penalties under Title 18 of the United States Code, section 274C of the Immigration and Nationality Act, 8 U.S.C. 1324c, provides for civil penalties.

General Instructions

Step 1. Fill Out Form N-648

All parts of this form (except for the "Applicant Attestation"), must be completed by a licensed medical doctor, doctor of osteopathy, or clinical psychologist.

Part I of this form must be signed by the applicant or the applicant's authorized representative.

All questions must be answered fully and accurately. If an item is not applicable indicate it with "N/A." If the answer is none, write "none."

USCIS recommends that the certifying medical professional complete and print the fillable electronic Form N-648 provided on the USCIS website ("Immigration Forms" link, www.uscis.gov). Note that if you need additional space to complete the answer to any item, the information fields in the fillable electronic form will expand to accommodate the additional information.

If the application is prepared manually, print or type legibly in black ink. If additional space is needed to complete the answer to any item, the certifying medical professional may attach an additional sheet of paper indicating the item number to which the attachment refers.

Note that each additional page or supplementary attachment to the completed form, including medical report(s), must include the name and Alien Registration Number (A-number) of the applicant and the complete name and signature of the medical professional.

After the medical professional has completed the form electronically or manually, he or she must provide it to the applicant.

Step 2. The Applicant Submits the Completed Form N-648 to USCIS

When and Where Should This Form Be Submitted?

All applicants seeking an exception from the testing requirements for naturalization must submit to USCIS a completed Form N-648 as an attachment to the applicant's Form N-400 at the same time Form N-400 is filed with USCIS.

USCIS recognizes that there may be exceptional circumstances that do not make it possible for the completed Form N-648 to be attached to Form N-400 when it is filed with USCIS. In such cases, the completed Form N-648 must be submitted to USCIS at the time of the applicant's naturalization interview. Note that while USCIS will accept delayed submissions, such claims may delay the adjudication of the naturalization application.
