COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS FUND (CDFI FUND) MISSION

The mission of the CDFI Fund is to expand the capacity of financial institutions to provide credit, capital, and financial services to underserved populations and communities in the United States.

WHAT IS A COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT FINANCIAL INSTITUTION (CDFI)?

Generally, CDFIs are community-based specialized financial institutions that serve Low-Income people or work in economically distressed communities, often working in market niches that may be underserved by traditional financial institutions. CDFIs provide a unique and wide range of Development Services, Financial Products and Financial Services that help their customers build wealth and achieve the goal of participating in the “ownership” society. While the types of products made available may be similar to those provided by mainstream financial institutions (such as mortgage financing for Low-Income and first-time homebuyers, small business lending, and lending for community facilities), CDFIs generally lend to and make equity investments in markets not served by traditional financial institutions. CDFIs may offer rates and terms that are more flexible than those provided by traditional financial institutions. CDFIs also seek to provide services that will help ensure that credit is used effectively, such as technical assistance to small businesses, and home buying and credit counseling to consumers. CDFIs include regulated institutions such as community development banks and credit unions, and non-regulated institutions such as loan funds and venture capital funds, among others.

CDFI CERTIFICATION DESIGNATION

CDFI certification is a designation conferred by the CDFI Fund. In order to be certified as a CDFI, a financial institution must meet each of the following seven certification criteria at the time a CDFI Certification Application is submitted to the CDFI Fund:

- § Be a legal entity;
- § Have a primary mission of promoting community development;
- § Be a financing entity;
- § Primarily serve one or more Target Markets;
- § Provide Development Services in conjunction with its financing activities;
- § Maintain accountability to its defined target market; and
- § Be a non-government entity and not be under control of any government entity (tribal governments typically excluded).

CDFI Certification does not constitute an opinion by the CDFI Fund as to the effectiveness or financial viability of the Applicant.

CDFI CERTIFICATION BENEFIT

An entity must be certified by the CDFI Fund as a CDFI in order to be eligible to receive a Financial Assistance award through the CDFI and Native American CDFI Assistance (NACA) programs. In addition, a certified CDFI can partner with an FDIC-insured depository institution to apply for a Bank Enterprise Award (BEA) from the CDFI Fund to support investments in the CDFI. CDFI certification may provide access to the New Markets Tax Credit Program by allowing the CDFI to become a Community Development Entity (CDE). CDFI certification may also enhance a financial institution’s ability to attract private sector capital, including funding from foundations, state and local governments, and other banks and financial institutions.
