Introductory script:

Hello! My name is [name]. I'm calling about how you and your family use your public library in connection with a research study being conducted by the University of Washington. We want to know how you use your library's computers, website, databases, and Internet connections, and how this may have helped you in your life. Your responses will help us evaluate and improve library computer services all over the country.

This research is sponsored by the Institute for Museum and Library Services, which is a department of the federal government that provides services to the nation's museums and libraries. You can learn more about this project at <http://www.depts.washington.edu/imlspac>. We're not selling anything, and your number was randomly selected for participation in our survey.

This is a confidential survey. All questions are optional, so you are free not to answer any questions you do not want to answer.

PART 1: Screening questions

Q26 What is your gender?

[If qualified USER, read section below; if qualified NON-USER, go to Q27]

I need some information in order to send you your $10 amazon.com gift code. This information is to process your gift certificate only. It will be kept separately from your answers to the survey and destroyed after you receive your gift code.

Q27 Can I have your email address to send you your gift certificate code number?

[If Yes, read back and confirm address. Go to Q28]

[If No] Q27.1 We would be happy to send it to you by mail. Can I have your name and address?

[If Yes, read back and confirm name and address. Go to Q28]

[If No] Q27.1.1 No problem, I can give it to you over the phone. Let me know when you are ready to take down the gift code. [WAIT UNTIL THEY ARE READY] You will need to access this through the internet, at www.amazon.com. Once you are there, you can shop for your item and proceed to check out. From there you enter your shipping information and then continue checking out. Where it asks for payment, you choose the "Amazon.com store cards" option and that is where you put in your code. Do you have any questions?

Q28 If you have any further questions about the study, you may contact Dr. Karen Fisher at 206-543-6238. If you have questions about your rights as a participant in this study or about the Human Subjects review process for this study, you may contact the University of Washington Human Subjects Division at 206-543-0098.

Thank you for your time.
