B. Proposed Approach.

(a) Recruitment and selection: The applicant's strategies and procedures for identifying and recruiting outstanding students who are committed to careers in food and agricultural sciences and who will increase the multicultural diversity of the workforce.

(b) Academic advising, career counseling, mentoring, and student support services: The applicant's plans and procedures for assessing, monitoring, guiding, and sustaining a Scholar's/Fellow's continued commitment and progress toward securing an education in preparation for a career in the food and agricultural sciences, and for providing appropriate career counseling, mentoring, and support services to Scholars/Fellows.

(c) Program evaluation and dissemination: The adequacy and reasonableness of the applicant's plans, as reflected in the grant application, for

- (1) evaluating project management and effectiveness,
- (2) tracking Scholars/Fellows' accomplishments after graduation, and
- (3) disseminating project outcomes and achievements to a wide audience of educators and policy makers, in order to expand the pipeline of outstanding students interested in careers in food and agricultural sciences.

C. Institutional Commitment and Resources.

The degree to which the grant application substantiates clearly: (1) that the facilities and equipment, instructional support resources and other academic attributes are excellent for providing outstanding teaching and research at the forefront of science and technology related to the chosen discipline; and (2) the commitment to support the Scholars/Fellows education and research over and beyond the funds provided by USDA.
