PART 1: Screening

Please use the following language for termination of screening:

“Thank you very much for your time today. We are looking to recruit a mix of people from a variety of backgrounds to help with this study. Right now we have enough people with your type of background. Again, thank you.”

For this project, it is important that individuals from a variety of races, ethnicities, genders and sexual orientations complete this survey. The next few questions will determine if you are among the people we are still recruiting.

Your answers will not be connected to you and you will not be asked to share your name. You do not have to answer questions that you don't want to. You may stop at any time. The National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases, which is part of the National Institutes of Health, is the sponsor of this project.
