Federal recognition that amateur radio plays an important societal function is insufficient to preempt local zoning regulations concerning height of radio antennas in residential areas. Guschke v. City of Oklahoma City, C.A.10 \(Okla.\) 1985, 763 F.2d 379. Zoning And Planning ↩️14

2. Broadcasting

FCC decision, that subscription television and direct broadcast satellite services were not "broadcasting services" subject to the Communications Act, was neither arbitrary nor capricious; transmission and receipt techniques involved indicated that such transmissions were intended to be received only by subscribers, and not by general public. National Ass'n For Better Broadcasting v. F.C.C., C.A.D.C.1988, 849 F.2d 665, 270 U.S.App.D.C. 334. Telecommunications ↩️1234; Telecommunications ↩️1275; Telecommunications ↩️1276

Federal Communications Commission failed to give adequate reasons either for classifying commercial nonsubscription use of excess instructional television fixed services capacity as nonbroadcasting or for deferring examination of the issue; it was not responsibility of viewers to complain of station's failure to comply with broadcast regulations, but the FCC's to regulate broadcast services and to decide how those services should be classified. Telecommunications Research and Action Center v. F.C.C., C.A.D.C.1988, 836 F.2d 1349, 267 U.S.App.D.C. 1. Telecommunications ↩️1132

Activity that would provide nongeneral interest, point-to-point service, where format is of interest to only narrow class of subscribers and does not implicate broadcasting objectives of this chapter need not be regulated as broadcasting. National Ass'n of Broadcasters v. F.C.C., C.A.D.C.1984, 740 F.2d 1190, 239 U.S.App.D.C. 87. Telecommunications ↩️1148

Where FM radio station broadcasting music simultaneously furnished the same music, with deletion of all advertising matter, to subscribers typified by restaurants, schools, stores, etc., furnishing of music to subscribers could not form basis for Commission determination that station's activities were not broadcasting in nature, which determination formed basis of Commission's rules restricting operation of subscription music service, and fact of program specializing and/or control was not necessarily determinative of requisite intent and therefore dispositive of broadcasting status as Commission had assumed. Functional Music, Inc. v. F.C.C., C.A.D.C.1958, 274 F.2d 543, 107 U.S.App.D.C. 34, certiorari denied 80 S.Ct. 50, 361 U.S. 813, 4 L.Ed.2d 60. Telecommunications ↩️1154

Subscription television transmission constituted broadcasting but were not for use of general public within section 605 of this title exempting broadcast transmitted for use of general public. U. S. v. Westbrook, E.D.Mich.1980, 502 F.Supp. 588. Telecommunications ↩️1304

FM multiplex radio transmissions of background music to subscribers do not constitute "broadcasting" as that term is defined in this section, and they are protected by this chapter and unauthorized reception and use of such transmissions by one other than authorized subscriber violates this chapter. Sales and use tax "broadcasting" exemption applied only to television broadcasting equipment and accessories thereto used directly in act of disseminating signal into the air, not to equipment and accessories used to create material which might be disseminated. 3. Common carriers--Generally

Cable broadband internet service was not a "cable service" but instead was part "telecommunications service" and part "information service" within meaning of Telecommunications Act. Brand X Internet Services v. F.C.C., C.A.9 2003, 345 F.3d 1120, rehearing and suggestion for rehearing en banc denied, certiorari granted 125 S.Ct. 654, 2004 WL 2070879, certiorari granted 125 S.Ct. 655, 2004 WL 2153536, certiorari denied 125 S.Ct. 664, 2004 WL 2245551. Telecommunications ↩️455(1)

Mere fact that local exchange carriers were common carriers with respect to some forms of telecommunication, such as offering local telephone service, did not relieve Federal Communications Commission (FCC) of supporting its conclusion that local exchange carriers provided "dark fiber" service on common carrier basis when they entered into individually tailored service contracts to provide fiber optic lines without necessary electronic equipment to power the fiber. Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. v. F.C.C., C.A.D.C.1994, 19 F.3d 1475, 305 U.S.App.D.C. 272. Telecommunications ↵898

Primary sine qua non of common carrier status is a quasi-public character, which arises out of the undertaking to carry for all people indifferently; particular services offered need not be practically available to the entire public and specialized carrier whose service is of possible use to only a fraction of the population may nonetheless be a common carrier if he holds himself out to serve indifferently all potential users; it is not essential that there be a statutory or other legal commandment to serve indiscriminately, rather it is the practice of such indifferent service that confers "common carrier" status. National Ass'n of Regulatory Utility Com'rs v. F. C. C., C.A.D.C.1976, 533 F.2d 601, 174 U.S.App.D.C. 374. Carriers ↵4

For purposes of Federal Communications Commission's (FCC) statutory authority over carriers, term "carrier" includes both long-distance telephone companies and telephone local exchange carrier (LEC) monopolies. Total Telecommunications Services, Inc. v. American Tel. and Tel. Co., D.D.C.1996, 919 F.Supp. 472, affirmed 99 F.3d 448, 321 U.S.App.D.C. 309. Telecommunications ↵753

Telephone local exchange carriers' (LEC) alleged practice of providing kickbacks to customers of portion of revenue carriers earned from long-distance telephone companies for terminating access service did not deprive carriers of their common carrier status so as to preclude carriers from charging long-distance telephone company for local access services according to carriers' tariffs; carriers were "common carriers" based on facts admitted by company that carriers were local telephone companies providing originating and terminating access services for interexchange calls, that company used such services, and that carriers billed company for access services. Frontier Communications of Mt. Pulaski, Inc. v. AT & T Corp., C.D.Ill.1997, 957 F.Supp. 170. Telecommunications ↵863

4. ---- Broadcasters, common carriers

Subsec. (h) of this section directing Commission not to treat persons engaged in broadcasting as common carriers was intended to preclude Commission discretion to compel broadcasters to act as common carriers, even with respect to a portion of their total services. F. C. C. v. Midwest Video Corp., U.S.1979, 99 S.Ct. 1435, 440 U.S. 689, 59 L.Ed.2d 692. Telecommunications ↵1084

Radio broadcasters and television broadcasters are not included in definition of common carriers in this section, as are telephone and telegraph companies, and thus the extensive controls, including rate regulation, of §§ 201 to 222 of this title do not apply to radio broadcasters and television broadcasters. U. S. v. Radio Corp. of America, U.S.Pa.1959, 79 S.Ct. 457, 358 U.S. 334, 3 L.Ed.2d 354. Telecommunications ↵1084

The chapter recognizes that radio broadcasters are not "common carriers" and that the field of broadcasting is one of free competition. F.C.C. v. Sanders Bros. Radio Station, U.S. Dist. Col. 1940, 60 S.Ct. 693, 309 U.S. 470, 309 U.S. 642, 84 L.Ed. 869, 84 L.Ed. 1037. Carriers ↵4; Telecommunications ↵1084

"Common carriers" referred to in Title of ADA that amends Communications Act of 1934 to require closed captioning in certain types of television announcements does not include television broadcasters. Stoutenborough v. National Football League, Inc., C.A.6 \(Ohio\) 1995, 59 F.3d 580, certiorari denied 116 S.Ct. 674, 516 U.S. 1028, 133 L.Ed.2d 523. Civil Rights ↵1021

A radio broadcasting station was not a common carrier within § 1(1) of Title 49. Sorensen v. Wood, Neb. 1932, 243 N.W. 82, 123 Neb. 348, appeal dismissed 54 S.Ct. 209, 290 U.S. 599, 78 L.Ed. 527.

5. ---- Cable television, common carriers

Federal Communications Commission's (FCC) ruling that cable companies providing broadband Internet access did not provide "telecommunications service" as Communications Act defined that term, and thus were exempt from mandatory common-carrier regulation under Title II, was permissible construction of Act under Chevron; term "offer" as used in definition of telecommunications service, was ambiguous, and FCC's construction was reasonable policy choice. National Cable & Telecommunications Ass'n v. Brand X Internet Services, 2005, 125 S.Ct. 2688, 162 L.Ed.2d 820. Telecommunications ↵1324

Commission rules requiring certain cable television systems to develop, at a minimum, 20-channel capacity by 1986, to make available certain channels for access by third parties, and to furnish equipment and facilities for access purposes were not reasonably ancillary to effective performance of Commission's various responsibilities for regulation of television broadcasting and were not within Commission's statutory authority under this chapter as Commission could not regulate cable systems as common carriers. F. C. C. v. Midwest Video Corp., U.S. 1979, 99 S.Ct. 1435, 440 U.S. 689, 59 L.Ed.2d 692. Telecommunications ↵1230

6. ---- Miscellaneous common carriers

Federal Communications Commission's (FCC) ruling that cable companies providing broadband Internet access did not provide "telecommunications service" as Communications Act defined that term, and thus were exempt from mandatory common-carrier regulation under Title II, was not inconsistent with its prior ruling requiring providers of Digital Subscriber Line (DSL) service to make telephone lines used to transmit DSL service available to competing Internet service providers (ISP) on nondiscriminatory, common-carrier terms, and therefore, ruling was not arbitrary and capricious change from agency practice under Administrative Procedure Act (APA); FCC provided reasoned explanation for different treatment, that changed market conditions warranted different treatment of facilities-based cable companies providing Internet access. National Cable & Telecommunications Ass'n v. Brand X Internet Services, 2005, 125 S.Ct. 2688, 162 L.Ed.2d 820.

Interactive computer services provider was not common carrier, and thus did not violate Communications Act when it allegedly made unreasonable charges, classifications, or regulations, unreasonably prejudiced some subscribers by favoring others, and failed to protect subscriber privacy. Howard v. America Online Inc., C.A.9 \(Cal.\) 2000, 208 F.3d 741, certiorari denied 121 S.Ct. 77, 531 U.S. 828, 148 L.Ed.2d 40. Telecommunications ↩️1340

In concluding that submarine cable operator which did not sell its capacity directly to the public was not a common carrier and granting its application for cable landing rights as non-common carrier, Federal Communications Commission (FCC) reasonably interpreted ambiguous new terms in Telecommunications Act, "telecommunications carrier" providing "telecommunications service," to mean "essentially" the same thing as "common carrier." Virgin Islands Telephone Corp. v. F.C.C., C.A.D.C.1999, 198 F.3d 921, 339 U.S.App.D.C. 174. Telecommunications ↩️1209

Partnership which obtained Multichannel Multipoint Distribution Service (MMDS) license was not a "common carrier," where partnership never provided communications services, never held itself out as able to provide service to the public as a common carrier, and was under no regulatory compulsion to provide common carrier service, and partnership thus did not violate Communications Act, or engage in impermissible discrimination, by refusing request for common carrier service. Eagleview Technologies, Inc. v. MDS Associates, C.A.11 \(Fla.\) 1999, 190 F.3d 1195. Telecommunications ↩️1084

Sharing of private line services as a nonprofit arrangement is not common carriage and thus is not subject to regulation under this chapter. American Tel. & Tel. Co. v. F. C. C., C.A.2 1978, 572 F.2d 17, certiorari denied 99 S.Ct. 213, 439 U.S. 875, 58 L.Ed.2d 190. Telecommunications ↩️1401

Internet service provider was information services provider, not "common carrier," and thus was not subject to anti-discrimination provisions of Federal Communications Act. America Online, Inc. v. GreatDeals.Net, E.D.Va.1999, 49 F.Supp.2d 851. Telecommunications ↩️1318

International telecommunications company that provided voice, data, and video transmission services, as a carrier of telephone messages on its telecommunications network, was "common carrier" within meaning of Communications Act. Company which was engaged in business of radio telephone communications between the United States and foreign countries was a "common carrier" of interstate or foreign communications by wire or radio within meaning of definition of a "common carrier" in this section. 7. Foreign communication

Proposed system for bouncing communications between Pasadena and space craft through Goldstone facility, in California, with voice communication between Goldstone and Pasadena merely as adjuncts to transmission of signals between Pasadena and space craft, was "foreign communication" or "foreign transmission", within FCC jurisdiction. Chapter 5. Wire or Radio Communication (Refs & Annos)

▣ Subchapter II. Common Carriers (Refs & Annos)

▣ Part III. Special Provisions Concerning Bell Operating Companies

➔ § 271. Bell operating company entry into interLATA services

(a) General limitation

Neither a Bell operating company, nor any affiliate of a Bell operating company, may provide interLATA services except as provided in this section.

(b) InterLATA services to which this section applies

(1) In-region services

A Bell operating company, or any affiliate of that Bell operating company, may provide interLATA services originating in any of its in-region States (as defined in subsection (i) of this section) if the Commission approves the application of such company for such State under subsection (d)(3) of this section.

(2) Out-of-region services

A Bell operating company, or any affiliate of that Bell operating company, may provide interLATA services originating outside its in-region States after February 8, 1996, subject to subsection (j) of this section.

(3) Incidental interLATA services

A Bell operating company, or any affiliate of a Bell operating company, may provide incidental interLATA services (as defined in subsection (g) of this section) originating in any State after February 8, 1996.

(4) Termination

Nothing in this section prohibits a Bell operating company or any of its affiliates from providing termination for interLATA services, subject to subsection (j) of this section.

(c) Requirements for providing certain in-region interLATA services

(1) Agreement or statement

A Bell operating company meets the requirements of this paragraph if it meets the requirements of subparagraph (A) or subparagraph (B) of this paragraph for each State for which the authorization is sought.

(A) Presence of a facilities-based competitor

A Bell operating company meets the requirements of this subparagraph if it has entered into one or more binding agreements that have been approved under section 252 of this title specifying the terms and conditions under which the Bell operating company is providing access and interconnection to its network facilities for the network facilities of one or more unaffiliated competing providers of telephone exchange service (as defined in section 153\(47\)\(A\) of this title, but excluding exchange access) to residential and business subscribers. For the purpose of this subparagraph, such telephone exchange service may be offered by such competing providers either exclusively over their own telephone exchange service facilities or predominantly over their own telephone exchange service facilities in combination with the resale of the telecommunications services of another carrier. For the purpose of this subparagraph, services provided pursuant to subpart K of part 22 of the Commission's regulations (47 C.F.R. 22.901 et seq.) shall not be considered to be telephone exchange services.

(B) Failure to request access

A Bell operating company meets the requirements of this subparagraph if, after 10 months after February 8, 1996, no such provider has requested the access and interconnection described in subparagraph (A) before the date which is 3 months before the date the company makes its application under subsection (d)(1) of this section, and a statement of the terms and conditions that the company generally offers to provide such access and interconnection has been approved or permitted to take effect by the State commission under section 252\(f\) of this title. For purposes of this subparagraph, a Bell operating company shall be considered not to have received any request for access and interconnection if the State commission of such State certifies that the only provider or providers making such a request have (i) failed to negotiate in good faith as required by section 252 of this title, or (ii) violated the terms of an agreement approved under section 252 of this title by the provider's failure to comply, within a reasonable period of time, with the implementation schedule contained in such agreement.

(2) Specific interconnection requirements

(A) Agreement required

A Bell operating company meets the requirements of this paragraph if, within the State for which the authorization is sought--

- (i)(I) such company is providing access and interconnection pursuant to one or more agreements described in paragraph (1)(A), or
- (II) such company is generally offering access and interconnection pursuant to a statement described in paragraph (1)(B), and
- (ii) such access and interconnection meets the requirements of subparagraph (B) of this paragraph.

(B) Competitive checklist

Access or interconnection provided or generally offered by a Bell operating company to other telecommunications carriers meets the requirements of this subparagraph if such access and interconnection includes each of the following:

- (i) Interconnection in accordance with the requirements of sections 251\(c\)\(2\) and 252\(d\)\(1\) of this title.
- (ii) Nondiscriminatory access to network elements in accordance with the requirements of sections 251\(c\)\(3\) and 252\(d\)\(1\) of this title.
- (iii) Nondiscriminatory access to the poles, ducts, conduits, and rights-of-way owned or controlled by the Bell operating company at just and reasonable rates in accordance with the requirements of section 224 of this title.
- (iv) Local loop transmission from the central office to the customer's premises, unbundled from local switching or other services.
- (v) Local transport from the trunk side of a wireline local exchange carrier switch unbundled from switching or other services.
- (vi) Local switching unbundled from transport, local loop transmission, or other services.
- (vii) Nondiscriminatory access to--
 - (I) 911 and E911 services;
 - (II) directory assistance services to allow the other carrier's customers to obtain telephone numbers; and
 - (III) operator call completion services.
- (viii) White pages directory listings for customers of the other carrier's telephone exchange service.
- (ix) Until the date by which telecommunications numbering administration guidelines, plan, or rules are established, nondiscriminatory access to telephone numbers for assignment to the other carrier's telephone exchange service customers. After that date, compliance with such guidelines, plan, or rules.
- (x) Nondiscriminatory access to databases and associated signaling necessary for call routing and completion.
- (xi) Until the date by which the Commission issues regulations pursuant to section 251 of this title to require number portability, interim telecommunications number portability through remote call forwarding, direct inward dialing trunks, or other comparable arrangements, with as little impairment of functioning, quality, reliability, and convenience as possible. After that date, full compliance with such regulations.

(xii) Nondiscriminatory access to such services or information as are necessary to allow the requesting carrier to implement local dialing parity in accordance with the requirements of section 251\(b\)\(3\) of this title.

(xiii) Reciprocal compensation arrangements in accordance with the requirements of section 252\(d\)\(2\) of this title.

(xiv) Telecommunications services are available for resale in accordance with the requirements of sections 251\(c\)\(4\) and 252\(d\)\(3\) of this title.

(d) Administrative provisions

(1) Application to Commission

On and after February 8, 1996, a Bell operating company or its affiliate may apply to the Commission for authorization to provide interLATA services originating in any in-region State. The application shall identify each State for which the authorization is sought.

(2) Consultation

(A) Consultation with the Attorney General

The Commission shall notify the Attorney General promptly of any application under paragraph (1). Before making any determination under this subsection, the Commission shall consult with the Attorney General, and if the Attorney General submits any comments in writing, such comments shall be included in the record of the Commission's decision. In consulting with and submitting comments to the Commission under this paragraph, the Attorney General shall provide to the Commission an evaluation of the application using any standard the Attorney General considers appropriate. The Commission shall give substantial weight to the Attorney General's evaluation, but such evaluation shall not have any preclusive effect on any Commission decision under paragraph (3).

(B) Consultation with State commissions

Before making any determination under this subsection, the Commission shall consult with the State commission of any State that is the subject of the application in order to verify the compliance of the Bell operating company with the requirements of subsection (c) of this section.

(3) Determination

Not later than 90 days after receiving an application under paragraph (1), the Commission shall issue a written determination approving or denying the authorization requested in the application for each State. The Commission shall not approve the authorization requested in an application submitted under paragraph (1) unless it finds that--

- (A) the petitioning Bell operating company has met the requirements of subsection (c)(1) of this section and--
 - (i) with respect to access and interconnection provided pursuant to subsection (c)(1)(A) of this section, has fully implemented the competitive checklist in subsection (c)(2)(B) of this section; or
 - (ii) with respect to access and interconnection generally offered pursuant to a statement under subsection (c)(1)(B) of this section, such statement offers all of the items included in the competitive checklist in subsection (c)(2)(B) of this section;
- (B) the requested authorization will be carried out in accordance with the requirements of section 272 of this title; and
- (C) the requested authorization is consistent with the public interest, convenience, and necessity.

The Commission shall state the basis for its approval or denial of the application.

(4) Limitation on Commission

The Commission may not, by rule or otherwise, limit or extend the terms used in the competitive checklist set forth in subsection (c)(2)(B) of this section.

(5) Publication

Not later than 10 days after issuing a determination under paragraph (3), the Commission shall publish in the Federal Register a brief description of the determination.

(6) Enforcement of conditions

(A) Commission authority

If at any time after the approval of an application under paragraph (3), the Commission determines that a Bell operating company has ceased to meet any of the conditions required for such approval, the Commission may, after notice and opportunity for a hearing--

- (i) issue an order to such company to correct the deficiency;
- (ii) impose a penalty on such company pursuant to subchapter V of this chapter; or
- (iii) suspend or revoke such approval.

(B) Receipt and review of complaints

The Commission shall establish procedures for the review of complaints concerning failures by Bell operating companies to meet conditions required for approval under paragraph (3). Unless the parties otherwise agree, the Commission shall act on such complaint within 90 days.

(e) Limitations

(1) Joint marketing of local and long distance services

Until a Bell operating company is authorized pursuant to subsection (d) of this section to provide interLATA services in an in-region State, or until 36 months have passed since February 8, 1996, whichever is earlier, a telecommunications carrier that serves greater than 5 percent of the Nation's presubscribed access lines may not jointly market in such State telephone exchange service obtained from such company pursuant to section 251\(c\)\(4\) of this title with interLATA services offered by that telecommunications carrier.

(2) IntraLATA toll dialing parity

(A) Provision required

A Bell operating company granted authority to provide interLATA services under subsection (d) of this section shall provide intraLATA toll dialing parity throughout that State coincident with its exercise of that authority.

(B) Limitation

Except for single-LATA States and States that have issued an order by December 19, 1995, requiring a Bell operating company to implement intraLATA toll dialing parity, a State may not require a Bell operating company to implement intraLATA toll dialing parity in that State before a Bell operating company has been granted authority under this section to provide interLATA services originating in that State or before 3 years after February 8, 1996, whichever is earlier. Nothing in this subparagraph precludes a State from issuing an order requiring intraLATA toll dialing parity in that State prior to either such date so long as such order does not take effect until after the earlier of either such dates.

(f) Exception for previously authorized activities

Neither subsection (a) of this section nor section 273 of this title shall prohibit a Bell operating company or affiliate from engaging, at any time after February 8, 1996, in any activity to the extent authorized by, and subject to the terms and conditions contained in, an order entered by the United States District Court for the District of Columbia pursuant to section VII or VIII\(C\) of the AT&T Consent Decree if such order was entered on or before February 8, 1996, to the extent such order is not reversed or vacated on appeal. Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to limit, or to impose terms or conditions on, an activity in which a Bell operating company is otherwise authorized to engage under any other provision of this section.

(g) "Incidental interLATA services" defined

For purposes of this section, the term "incidental interLATA services" means the interLATA provision by a Bell operating company or its affiliate--

- (1)(A) of audio programming, video programming, or other programming services to subscribers to such services of such company or affiliate;
- (B) of the capability for interaction by such subscribers to select or respond to such audio programming, video programming, or other programming services;
- (C) to distributors of audio programming or video programming that such company or affiliate owns or controls, or is licensed by the copyright owner of such programming (or by an assignee of such owner) to distribute; or
- (D) of alarm monitoring services;
- (2) of two-way interactive video services or Internet services over dedicated facilities to or for elementary and secondary schools as defined in section 254\(h\)\(5\) of this title;
- (3) of commercial mobile services in accordance with section 332\(c\) of this title and with the regulations prescribed by the Commission pursuant to paragraph (8) of such section;
- (4) of a service that permits a customer that is located in one LATA to retrieve stored information from, or file information for storage in, information storage facilities of such company that are located in another LATA;
- (5) of signaling information used in connection with the provision of telephone exchange services or exchange access by a local exchange carrier; or
- (6) of network control signaling information to, and receipt of such signaling information from, common carriers offering interLATA services at any location within the area in which such Bell operating company provides telephone exchange services or exchange access.

(h) Limitations

The provisions of subsection (g) of this section are intended to be narrowly construed. The interLATA services provided under subparagraph (A), (B), or (C) of subsection (g) (1) of this section are limited to those interLATA transmissions incidental to the provision by a Bell operating company or its affiliate of video, audio, and other programming services that the company or its affiliate is engaged in providing to the public. The Commission shall ensure that the provision of services authorized under subsection (g) of this section by a Bell operating company or its affiliate will not adversely affect telephone exchange service ratepayers or competition in any telecommunications market.

(i) Additional definitions

As used in this section--

(1) In-region State

The term "in-region State" means a State in which a Bell operating company or any of its affiliates was authorized to provide wireline telephone exchange service pursuant to the reorganization plan approved under the AT&T Consent Decree, as in effect on the day before February 8, 1996.

(2) Audio programming services

The term "audio programming services" means programming provided by, or generally considered to be comparable to programming provided by, a radio broadcast station.

(3) Video programming services; other programming services

The terms "video programming service" and "other programming services" have the same meanings as such terms have under section 522 of this title.

(j) Certain service applications treated as in-region service applications

For purposes of this section, a Bell operating company application to provide 800 service, private line service, or their equivalents that--

- (1) terminate in an in-region State of that Bell operating company, and
- (2) allow the called party to determine the interLATA carrier, shall be considered an in-region service subject to the requirements of subsection (b)(1) of this section.

1. Constitutionality

Provision of Telecommunications Act which prevented Bell operating companies (BOCs) from immediately providing in-region long distance telephone service, absent satisfaction of certain statutory criteria, did not amount to unlawful bill of attainder, although Act applied to BOCs with specificity, since Act did not inflict punishment on BOCs. BellSouth Corp. v. F.C.C., C.A.D.C.1998, 162 F.3d 678, 333 U.S.App.D.C. 253. Constitutional Law ↩82.5; Telecommunications ↩730

Provisions of Telecommunications Act of 1996 restricting entry of Bell operating companies (BOC), which were certain formerly-affiliated telephone local exchange carriers (LEC), into long-distance telephone market, prohibiting electronic publishing by BOCs through use of basic telephone service, requiring BOC affiliates for particular lines of business, and restricting manufacturing activities and provision of alarm monitoring services constituted "punishment" and, thus, provisions constituted unconstitutional "bill of attainder"; provisions punished BOCs financially, provisions took from BOCs rights they previously enjoyed, provisions served as punishment for BOCs' presumed anticompetitive conduct, and prior allegedly anticompetitive conduct of BOCs' former corporate parent formed basis of provisions. SBC Communications, Inc. v. F.C.C., N.D.Tex.1997, 981 F.Supp. 996, stay granted 1998 WL 119707, reversed 154 F.3d 226, certiorari denied 119 S.Ct. 889, 525 U.S. 1113, 142 L.Ed.2d 788. Constitutional Law ↩82.5; Telecommunications ↩730

2. Purpose

Purpose of Federal Telecommunications Act was to replace telecommunications monopolies and regulation with competitive markets. Bell Atlantic-New Jersey, Inc. v. Tate, D.N.J.1997, 962 F.Supp. 608. Monopolies ↩10

Breaux-Leahy Amendment to Federal Telecommunications Act, permitting states that had ordered regional bell operating companies (RBOC) to offer intra-local access transport area (intraLATA) toll service presubscription by certain date to proceed to effectuate that requirement after that date, was sponsored as means to reduce preemptive effect of earlier versions of the legislation. Bell Atlantic-New Jersey, Inc. v. Tate, D.N.J.1997, 962 F.Supp. 608. Telecommunications ↩734; States ↩18.81

3. Competing provider

Federal Communications Commission (FCC) reasonably determined that telephone network element unbundling obligations faced by Bell operating companies (BOCs) who wished to enter long distance service market were independent of and not controlled by unbundling obligations such companies faced in order to avoid impairment of competition by competitive local exchange carriers (CLECs). U.S. Telecom Ass'n v. F.C.C., C.A.D.C.2004, 359 F.3d 554, 360 U.S.App.D.C. 202, certiorari denied 125 S.Ct. 313, 2004 WL 2069543, certiorari denied 125 S.Ct. 316, 2004 WL 2071195, certiorari denied 125 S.Ct. 345, 160 L.Ed.2d 223, 2004 WL 2152860. Telecommunications ↩860

Federal Communications Commission (FCC) reasonably interpreted phrase "competing provider," as used in statute setting requirements for approval of Bell operating company's (BOC) application to provide long-distance services in its in-region state, to require that provider must offer actual commercial alternative to BOC. SBC Communications Inc. v. F.C.C., C.A.D.C.1998, 138 F.3d 410, 329 U.S.App.D.C. 133. Telecommunications ↩️782

4. State requirements

By issuing order requiring presubscription for intra-local access transport area (intraLATA) toll service by competitive carriers but not yet adopting final rules to implement that requirement, New Jersey Board of Public Utilities (BPU) met requirements of grandfather clause to Federal Telecommunications Act, which clause permitted state that had, by grandfather date, ordered regional Bell operating company (RBOC) to offer presubscription to proceed to effectuate that requirement after that date using its own timeframe; actual implementation of program was not required under clause, Board order established both policy and requirement, and order made clear that presubscription should be implemented as quickly as possible, to be completed within a year of effective date of proposed rules. Bell Atlantic-New Jersey, Inc. v. Tate, D.N.J.1997, 962 F.Supp. 608. Monopolies ↩️10

5. State policy

In determining whether an incumbent local exchange carrier's (ILEC's) rates for unbundled network elements (UNEs) comply with the "TELRIC" (total-element long run incremental cost) standard for granting authority to the ILEC to offer long-distance service, it is reasonable for the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) to rely on the states' periodic rate revision process as a means of correcting flaws in adopted rates, and Court of Appeals will not upset that balance ad hoc by requiring refunds, or requiring the FCC to do so, unless they are clearly necessary to render the rates TELRIC-compliant. WorldCom, Inc. v. F.C.C., C.A.D.C.2002, 308 F.3d 1, 353 U.S.App.D.C. 325, on remand 2004 WL 324231. Telecommunications ↩️860; Telecommunications ↩️866

Federal Communications Commission (FCC), in determining whether state utility commission-approved recurring-charge rates for Bell operating company's (BOC) lease of unbundled network elements (UNEs) to competitive local exchange carrier (CLEC) were TELRIC (total long-run incremental cost) compliant, could rely in part on comparison with rates in state neighboring BOC's region, with suitable adjustments. Sprint Communications Co. L.P. v. F.C.C., C.A.D.C.2001, 274 F.3d 549, 348 U.S.App.D.C. 266. Telecommunications ↩️866

For purposes of determining whether state established binding policy of presubscription for intra-local access transport area (intraLATA) toll service provided by competitive carriers for purposes of Federal Telecommunications Act grandfather clause permitting state that had, by grandfather date, ordered regional Bell operating company (RBOC) to offer presubscription to proceed to effectuate that requirement after that date using its own timeframe, "policy" may be "requirement" and vice versa; crucial examination is whether policy is merely precatory or is binding. Bell Atlantic-New Jersey, Inc. v. Tate, D.N.J.1997, 962 F.Supp. 608. Monopolies ↩10

6. Amendment to application

Federal Communications Commission (FCC), in deciding "nondiscriminatory access" component of Bell operating company's (BOC) June 21 application to add long-distance service, did not act arbitrarily or capriciously by considering August 17 submission by BOC; later submission was within exception to FCC's "complete when filed" rule since it addressed commenters' challenges to BOC's wholesale billing performance for May and June, and FCC could reasonably choose not to segregate evidence from June and August submissions into two categories, usable for prima facie case vs. usable for rebuttal only. Z-Tel Communications, Inc. v. F.C.C., C.A.D.C.2003, 333 F.3d 262, 357 U.S.App.D.C. 141. Telecommunications ↩863

7. Billing metrics

Federal Communications Commission (FCC), in deciding "nondiscriminatory access" component of Bell operating company's (BOC) application to add long-distance service, did not act arbitrarily or capriciously by giving no weight to BOC's recalculated billing metrics submitted after application, which allegedly showed that BOC made many more errors in billing competitive local exchange carriers (CLECs) than its own customers; metrics after recalculation retained structural problem that parties agreed was significant, i.e. unpredictable lag between any error and its reflection in metrics. Z-Tel Communications, Inc. v. F.C.C., C.A.D.C.2003, 333 F.3d 262, 357 U.S.App.D.C. 141. Telecommunications ↩863

8. Consultation with Attorney General

Federal Communications Commission (FCC), in deciding Bell operating company's (BOC) application to add long-distance service, did not violate Telecommunications Act's "consultation with Attorney General" provision by considering additional evidence concerning problem with BOC's wholesale billing system after Attorney General had mentioned problem in his evaluation; Attorney General's report expressly anticipated additional evidence, and Act intended such reports to be advisory, not controlling. Z-Tel Communications, Inc. v. F.C.C., C.A.D.C.2003, 333 F.3d 262, 357 U.S.App.D.C. 141. Telecommunications ↩870

9. Substantial evidence

Substantial evidence supported Federal Communications Commission's (FCC) determination the Bell operating company's (BOC) wholesale billing comported with Telecommunications Act's "nondiscriminatory access" requirement, as required for approval of BOC's application to add long-distance service; data from five-month period before application showed decrease from 27% to 2% in dollar value of all disputes submitted by competitive local exchange carriers (CLECs), error rates for "historic problem areas" declined to "relatively nominal" level, and third-party studies indicated wholesale data were readable and auditable. Z-Tel Communications, Inc. v. F.C.C., C.A.D.C.2003, 333 F.3d 262, 357 U.S.App.D.C. 141. Telecommunications ¶863
