

Using National Juvenile Corrections Data Files: 1997–2006

June 1–3, 2009

National Archive of Criminal Justice Data, University of Michigan

Sponsored by the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (OJJDP)

What topics are covered? Trends in juvenile corrections populations at the national and state levels, the residential facilities that hold them, the variations in practices in place, and the services provided to young persons in custody.

Who should attend this workshop? State and local juvenile justice researchers, academic researchers, and policy makers at the local, state, and federal levels. Jurisdictional teams are welcome.

Purpose: This inaugural workshop will make a wealth of national data from OJJDP's data collections from 1997–2006 available to researchers and practitioners along with the tools necessary to understand and use the data appropriately.

Objectives: Participants in this 3-day workshop will learn to analyze multi-year national data files on juvenile corrections using the Secure Survey Documentation and Analysis (Secure SDA), a powerful online data analysis tool that enables descriptive to multivariate analysis of data from different surveys and over time.

Datasets:

- Census of Juveniles in Residential Placement (CJRP) 1997, 1999, 2001, 2003, 2006
- Juvenile Residential Placement Facilities Census (JRFC) 1998, 2000, 2002, 2004, 2006

Location: University of Michigan, Ann Arbor

Time: 8:30 am, Monday, June 1, 2009 to 12:00 pm, Wednesday, June 3, 2009

Stipend: Stipend support of up to $1,000 for travel and living expenses is available for a limited number of students admitted to the workshop. The workshop is limited to 25 participants.

Application: Will be available online in February 2009 at <http://www.icpsr.umich.edu/sumprog/2009/registration.html>. The application deadline is April 27, 2009. Please indicate your jurisdictional partners in your letter of application. Applicants who are selected will be contacted shortly after May 1, 2009.
