Highlights

Welcome to INTERNational Connections!

Here, the virtual world meets the world of American diplomacy at work. It's an international community where exceptional people like you can meet other interns, share your experiences and learn from one another.

You'll have a private online journal to record your career-related experiences, upload photos taken during your internship and get the latest Student Programs news.

Even better, when you keep your profile and contact information current, you can stay connected with fellow interns and U.S. Department of State employees worldwide — even after your internship is over. And who knows where that may lead.

We hope you enjoy your time on INTERNational Connections and look forward to seeing you here often.
