The American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (ARRA), as amended by the Department of Defense Appropriations Act, 2010, reduces the COBRA premium in some cases. You are receiving this notice because you [were receiving premium assistance as of October 31, 2009; became an Assistance Eligible Individual or experienced a qualifying event that was the termination of a covered employee's employment on or after October 31, 2009 but were not provided a notice that included the information required by ARRA, as amended; or received the full nine months of premium assistance required under ARRA and either did not make any payment for subsequent periods of coverage or made payment of the full premium otherwise required to maintain coverage absent the subsidy]. If you experienced an involuntary termination of employment you may be eligible for the temporary premium reduction for up to 15 months. To help determine whether you can get the ARRA premium reduction, you should read this notice and the attached documents carefully. In particular, reference the "Summary of the COBRA Premium Reduction Provisions under ARRA, as Amended" with details regarding eligibility, restrictions, and obligations.

Important Information about Your COBRA Continuation Coverage Rights

How much does COBRA continuation coverage cost?

Generally, each qualified beneficiary may be required to pay the entire cost of continuation coverage. The amount a qualified beneficiary may be required to pay may not exceed 102 percent (or, in the case of an extension of continuation coverage due to a disability, 150 percent) of the cost to the group health plan (including both employer and employee contributions) for coverage of a similarly situated plan participant or beneficiary who is not receiving continuation coverage. The required payment for each continuation coverage period for each option is described in this notice.

The American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (ARRA), as amended by the Department of Defense Appropriations Act, 2010, reduces the COBRA premium in some cases. The premium reduction is available to certain individuals who experience a qualifying event relating to COBRA continuation coverage that is an involuntary termination of employment during the period beginning with September 1, 2008 and ending with February 28, 2010. If you qualify for the premium reduction, you need only pay 35 percent of the COBRA premium otherwise due to the plan. This premium reduction is available for up to 15 months. If your COBRA continuation coverage lasts for more than 15 months, you will have to pay the full amount to continue your COBRA continuation coverage. See the attached "Summary of the COBRA Premium Reduction Provisions under ARRA, as Amended" for more details, restrictions, and obligations as well as the form necessary to establish eligibility.

[If employees might be eligible for trade adjustment assistance, the following information must be added: The Trade Act of 2002 created a tax credit for certain individuals who become eligible for trade adjustment assistance and for certain retired employees who are receiving pension payments from the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation (PBGC). Under the tax provisions, eligible individuals can either take a tax credit or get advance payment of 65% of premiums paid for qualified health insurance, including continuation coverage. ARRA made several amendments to these provisions, including an increase in the amount of the credit to 80% of premiums for coverage before January 1, 2011 and temporary extensions of the maximum period of COBRA continuation coverage for PBGC recipients (covered employees who have a nonforfeitable right to a benefit any portion of which is to be paid by the PBGC) and TAA-eligible individuals.

When and how must payment for COBRA continuation coverage be made?

Changes to grace periods for certain payments

Under normal circumstances, you have a grace period of at least 30 days after the first day of the coverage period to make each periodic payment. If you fail to make a periodic payment before the end of the grace period for that coverage period, you would lose all rights to continuation coverage under the Plan. However, the Department of Defense Appropriations Act, 2010 provides an extended period of time for certain periods of coverage. If you have reached the end of the reduced premium period before the legislation extended it to 15 months, you can make a retroactive payment of the reduced premium(s) for the period(s) of coverage immediately following what would have been the last period subject to the premium reduction. This payment must be made by February 17, 2010 or, if later, within 30 days from the date this notice was provided to you.

Summary of the COBRA Premium Reduction Provisions under ARRA, as Amended

President Obama signed the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) on February 17, 2009. On December 19, 2009, the President signed the Department of Defense Appropriations Act, 2010. These laws give “Assistance Eligible Individuals” the right to pay reduced COBRA premiums for periods of coverage beginning on or after February 17, 2009 and can last up to 15 months.

To be considered an “Assistance Eligible Individual” and get reduced premiums you:

- MUST have a continuation coverage election opportunity related to an involuntary termination of employment that occurred at any time from September 1, 2008 through February 28, 2010;
- MUST elect the coverage;
- MUST NOT be eligible for Medicare; AND
- MUST NOT be eligible for coverage under any other group health plan, such as a plan sponsored by a successor employer or a spouse’s employer.*

Individuals whose 9 month premium reduction ended also have an opportunity to make a payment to continue coverage at the reduced rates. These payments must be made by February 17, 2010 or, if later, within 30 days from receipt of the notice regarding the ARRA amendment that extended the premium reduction to 15 months.

◆ IMPORTANT ◆

- ◇ If, after you elect COBRA and while you are paying the reduced premium, you become eligible for other group health plan coverage or Medicare you MUST notify the plan in writing. If you do not, you may be subject to a tax penalty.
- ◇ Electing the premium reduction disqualifies you for the Health Coverage Tax Credit. If you are eligible for the Health Coverage Tax Credit, which could be more valuable than the premium reduction, you will have received a notification from the IRS.
- ◇ The amount of the premium reduction is recaptured for certain high income individuals. If the amount you earn for the year is more than $125,000 (or $250,000 for married couples filing a joint federal income tax return) all or part of the premium reduction may be recaptured by an increase in your income tax liability for the year. If you think that your income may exceed the amounts above, you may wish to consider waiving your right to the premium reduction. For more information, consult your tax preparer or visit the IRS webpage on ARRA at www.irs.gov.
