

VERBAL CONSENT SCRIPT

I work for a private research firm called Abt Associates. We are conducting a Federally funded project designed to collect information about drug use, illegal activities, and service needs among individuals who have been arrested. Your participation is voluntary and confidential. We will not include or record your name anywhere on the information you provide. Any information you provide is confidential, unavailable to anyone outside the research project, and will not help or hurt your case.

We have a Confidentiality Certificate from the US government that adds special protection for the research information about you. This does not imply government approval or disapproval of this project. It says we do not have to identify you, even under a court order or subpoena. Still, we may report medical information (if you need medical help), probable harm to yourself or others, or probable child abuse or neglect. The government may see your information if it audits us, but your name will not be part of any of the information we collect.

I will ask you a series of questions that will take approximately 20 to 30 minutes. You may find some questions embarrassing or distressing, and you can refuse to answer any question. At the end of the interview, I will ask you to provide a urine sample. If you listen to all my questions and provide the urine sample, you will be given a [incentive]. Can we begin now?
