

Interview guide for GLIDES evaluation: List of verbal prompts

Background information:

- Would you mind telling me a little bit about yourself and how you came to be a clinician here?
- What are your current clinical responsibilities?
- What do you know about the GLIDES project?
- Could you describe your role in this project?

Thoughts on the asthma guideline:

- What do you think of the guideline on which the asthma forms were based?
- What role has the guideline played in the care of asthma patients in your practice (before and after implementation)?

Thoughts about the forms themselves:

- What do you think about the new asthma forms?
- Do you use them?
 - If so, in what way?
 - If not, why not?
- Have they changed the care of your patients in any way? If so, how?

Thoughts on the project as a whole:

- How do you think the project has been going so far?
- What do you think have been the main factors affecting its implementation? Use?
- What do you think have been the main challenges or difficulties?
- If you could change something about the project, what would it be?
- What would you have done differently? Why?
- What have you learned from this project?

Thoughts about computers and IT adoption in their practice:

- What do you think about the electronic medical record system you use?
- How do you typically use the computers during the course of a clinic visit?
- Has this project changed the way you use the computers? If so, how?
- What has been your experience with computerized decision support systems in the past?

Concluding questions:

- Is there anything else you want to add?
- What else do you think we should be asking?
