

Welcome!

This is the starting point to request a review of our medical decision about your eligibility for disability benefits. There are two parts to this Internet Appeal process: (1) an Appeal Request Internet form, and (2) an Appeal Disability Report that gives us more information about your condition. You can complete both forms online. To appeal online, the only form you are required to submit is an appeal request (Part 1). However, we encourage you to submit an Appeal Disability Report (Part 2) because it will give us more information about you and help us in processing your appeal. We estimate it will take 18 to 20 minutes, with an average of 19 minutes, to complete Part 1; and 15 to 45 minutes, with an average of 30 minutes, to complete Part 2. If you do not want to use the Internet to request your appeal, there are Other Ways to Request an Appeal or Complete a Disability Report.

Note: We use the term "claimant" to refer to the adult or child whose disability decision is being appealed.

To be able to use this Internet process, the claimant must:

- Have applied for benefits
- Have received a "Notice of Disapproved Claim", a "Notice of Reconsideration", or "Notice of Federal Reviewing Official Decision", and have the notice available when beginning this process. (If you do not know which notice you received, refer to About Your Notice.)
- Disagree with the disability decision
- Live in the United States or one of its territories.

If any of the above statements are not true, stop here and contact Social Security.

Completing the Internet Appeal Process

The first part of your appeal is the Appeal Request. The next five pages explain this request and help you get ready to provide the information we need. The sixth page is the Appeal Request form. We will ask you to provide information about your representative if you have one. You will be able to review the information you provide before sending it to us electronically. The Appeal Request is a short form and you must complete and submit it in a single session. You will not be able to come back to it later.

Part 2 of the two-part Internet process is completing the Appeal Disability Report. We will walk you through completion of this report right after you submit the Appeal Request. The Report asks you to tell us about any changes that have occurred since the claimant last completed a disability report. This includes information about the claimant's condition, doctors or other medical sources and treatment, work activity and education. You do not have to complete this report all at once. Later we will tell you how to return to an Appeal Disability Report that you had started earlier.

Privacy information for Internet Appeals

The Social Security Act (section 205(a), 702, 1631(e)(1)(A) and (B), and 1969(b)(1) and (c), and Public Law 106-189 (Section 809(a)(1)) of Sections 251 (a) and Section 1826(i) of the Act (P.L. 108-173) as appropriate) authorizes the collection of information on this form. We need the information to continue processing your claim. You do not have to give it, but if you do not you may not receive benefits under the Social Security Act. We may give out the information on this form without your written consent if we need to get more information to decide if you are eligible for benefits, or if a Federal law requires us to do so. Specifically, we may provide information to another Federal, State, or local government agency which is deciding your eligibility for a government benefit or program, to the President or Congressman inquiring on your behalf, to an independent party who needs statistical information for a research paper or audit report on a Social Security program, or to the Department of Justice to represent the Federal Government in a court suit related to a program administered by the Social Security Administration. We explain, in the Federal Register, these and other reasons why we may use or give out information about you. If you would like more information, get in touch with any Social Security office, the Veterans Affairs Regional Office in Mania, or any U.S. Foreign Service post.

We may also use the information you give us when we match records by computer. Matching programs compare our records with those of other Federal, State, or local government agencies. Many agencies may use matching programs to find or prove that a person qualifies for benefits paid by the Federal government. The law allows us to do this even if you do not agree to it.

Explanations about these and other reasons why information about you may be used or given out are available in Social Security offices. If you want to learn more about this, contact any Social Security office, the Veterans Affairs Regional Office in Mania, or any U.S. Foreign Service post.

About this Internet Appeal Process

Using Social Security Online Services

Using the Internet Appeal Request and Disability Report gives you:

- Security and privacy for your information.
- Step by step instructions and examples to help you complete the Appeal Request and the Disability Report.
- A process to collect information that applies to you, similar to the interview process in a Social Security Office.
- The ability to work at your own pace, stopping when you want and coming back to finish later.

What You Will Need

The Internet Appeal Request and Disability Report process asks for information about the adult or child whose disability decision is being appealed (the "claimant") and his or her medical history.

For us to decide that the claimant is disabled under the Social Security Act and its regulations, you must give us as much information as possible so we can contact your doctors and hospitals directly to get your medical records. It is important that you give us the names, addresses, and dates of treatment for all your doctors and hospitals. The list below provides details about what you will need.

For Part 1: The Appeal Request

- Your Social Security Number, name, address, and telephone number, if you have one.
- Your Notice of Decision.
- Information about your representative, if you have one. Use this link for more information about having a representative.

For Part 2: The Disability Report

- The name, address including ZIP code, and telephone number of someone else who knows about your illnesses, injuries and conditions (referred to only as conditions from here on) and can give us information about you. (Note: The instructions page for Part 2 provides a link for ZIP code lookup, if you need it.)
- A description of any changes in your conditions since you last completed a disability report, including new physical and mental limitations and new conditions.
- The names, addresses including ZIP codes, and telephone numbers for all doctors, hospitals, and clinics that you have seen since you last completed a disability report, and the dates you saw them.
- The name of each medical test that you have had since you last completed a disability report, when and where the test was done, and who ordered it.
- The name of each current prescription and over-the-counter medicine that you take and the doctor who prescribed it.

Your right to representation

You can handle your own Social Security appeal with free help from Social Security, or you can choose a lawyer, a friend or someone else to help you. Someone you appoint to help you is called your "representative". You cannot choose someone who has been suspended or disqualified from representing others before the Social Security Administration or who may not, by law, act as a representative. You may contact your local Social Security office for a list of legal referral and service organizations. We will work with your representative, just as we would work with you.

If you want to appoint someone as your representative, you or your representative must first complete SSA-1696 (Appointment of Representative) or send a written statement naming your representative. If your representative is not an attorney, he or she must sign the statement or SSA-1696 or state in writing that he or she accepts the appointment, before you send it to us.

Your representative cannot charge or collect a fee from you without first getting written approval from Social Security. However, your representative may accept money from you in advance as long as it is held in a trust or escrow account.

Both you and your representative are responsible for providing us with accurate information. It is illegal to furnish false information knowingly and willfully. If you do, you may face criminal prosecution.

You can get more information about having a representative by selecting the link Your Right to Representation.

If You Have Questions

Call our toll-free number, 1-800-772-1213. If you are deaf or hard of hearing, call our toll-free "TTY" number, 1-800-325-0778. Representatives are available Monday through Friday from 7 AM to 7 PM.

Who is the wage earner?

The wage earner is a person who earns Social Security credits while working for wages or self-employment income. He or she is sometimes referred to as the "Number Holder" or "Worker".

If the Claim Number is not your own Social Security Number, then the wage earner is the spouse or parent on whose record you filed for disability. You should enter his or her name in the space provided.

You may continue without providing this information.
