

Dear Resident:

Recently, a U.S. Census Bureau representative visited your household on behalf of the American Community Survey. The Census Bureau is conducting this survey under the authority of Title 13, Sections 141, 193, and 221, of the United States Code, and response to this survey is required by law. I understand that you have some concerns about participating in this survey, but your household's participation is important to the success of this survey.

The American Community Survey contains questions about your household characteristics including such topics as education, employment, and housing. The primary goal of this survey is to provide information each year about the social, economic, and housing characteristics of the United States. Your participation helps provide the information needed by your community, county, state, and nation, to plan and fund programs at all levels. The American Community Survey will provide communities annually updated, detailed information previously available only when the Census Bureau conducted a census every 10 years.

We want to emphasize that any information you give our representative will be kept confidential. By law, the Census Bureau cannot publish or release to anyone any information that would identify you or your household (Title 13, Section 9). The information you provide can be used only for statistical purposes.

A member of our staff will contact you again in a few days to arrange an interview at your convenience. Your participation and cooperation are important to the success of the survey. For more information about the American Community Survey, visit our website at <http://www.census.gov/acs>.

Sincerely,

Enclosures
