ABOUT THE STUDY

“We are a group of researchers from CHEST, a health research center affiliated with the City University of New York. We are working with GMAD, a community-based organization located in Harlem. We’re interested in talking with black men and other men in their social circles about their thoughts on HIV prevention and HIV testing. We also want to know how you communicate with your friends, associates, and others about these issues. If you choose to participate in this study, you will be asked to come to one of our offices for the first appointment. You will also be invited to come in on one more occasion, 3 months after your first appointment. Questions about drug and alcohol use, sexual behavior and mental health will be asked. You may also receive HIV testing, if you wish at either or both appointments.

The first visit may last up to 2 hours and the follow-up visit is shorter. You will receive a $60 token of appreciation for the first completed survey and interview, and $30 for the follow-up. You may receive up to $90 for your full participation in the study.

Because your involvement with the project occurs over 3 months, we will ask you for your name and contact information. Information that links your name to your data will be kept in a locked file cabinet. This link will be destroyed after the data have been entered into a computer and re-checked. If you agree to participate, all information about you will be stored securely.

Protocol for Participant Screening regarding Psychological Symptoms
Psychological Symptom Screening

BMSM

1. The staff assessor will conduct this screening procedure in person immediately after the confirmatory screening (for those who are eligible). Both screening procedures will be conducted after obtaining verbal consent to be screened.

2. The assessment administrator will verbally conduct the psychological symptoms screening procedure (see attached), which was developed from the DSM-IV. If a participant answers ‘yes’ to any particular item, the administrator will probe for the most recent occurrence of that experience and seek additional information through simple probes such as “Can you tell me a little more about that?” or “What was that like?”. The administrator will make written notes of all responses and comments.

3. After asking all of the questions, the assessment administrator will examine the responses. Action should then proceed as follows:

No ‘yes’ responses: Proceed with administration informed consent followed by remaining research protocols.

One or more ‘yes’ responses: The staff member will have the individual speak with a clinically-trained staff member. The assessor, the Project Director, and the clinical staff person will then make a decision as to whether the participant should be enrolled in the study.

Thanks for answering those questions again. Before we confirm you are eligible, we have a few more questions related to stress and how you feel. May I have your permission to ask you these questions?

Thank you. Sometimes when people get really stressed, they might experience things they don't normally experience. I'm going to ask if some of these things have ever happened to you. If you say yes, I'll ask for a little more detail.

Note: To determine if reported symptoms may be organic, ask whether the respondent was taking any drugs or medications at the time the symptoms were experienced, whether they were drinking a lot, or physically ill.

Question	If Yes, ask date of last occurrence	Comments/Notes – Provide Examples

Did you ever have visions or see things that other people couldn't see? (Were you awake at the time?) Note: Distinguish from an illusion, i.e., a misperception of a real external stimulus.	Y Date: N
Did you ever have a period of time in which your thoughts were racing for no apparent reason, and you couldn't slow them down? Or did you have days when you were so keyed up that you felt like you didn't need to sleep. Note: Distinguish from possible effects of recreational drug use.	Y Date: N
Did it ever seem that you thought people were taking special notice of you, and other people did not think that was happening to you? Did you ever feel you were receiving special messages, like from the TV, radio or newspaper?	Y Date: N
Did you ever feel that parts of your body had changed or stopped working? What about strange sensations in your body or on your skin? (If YES, What did the doctor say?)	Y Date: N
