E-mails

The KEYS data collection and scoring system is contained on an Internet-based system. Once a client places an order for KEYS and provides CCL with the rater names and e-mail addresses, all communications with raters are automatic and take place via e-mail. This appendix contains the complete set of all e-mails possibly seen by raters and client administrators in the course of their KEYS use.