RE: Application for Transfer of License to Project 4440

FERC:

This letter is an official request to transfer the exemption license to hydroelectric project 4440, known as the "Harris Bridge" facility. The current licensee is Blue Sky Power, and the transferee is Central Virginia Electric Cooperative.

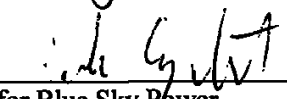

The property containing the hydroelectric facility, including the dam, canal, powerhouse, and all structural components, was sold from Blue Sky Power to Central Virginia Electric Cooperative in December of 2010.

The attached documents demonstrate that the property title has been transferred from the current licensee to the transferee and that the deed has been recorded. Other attached documents state the qualifications of the transferee to hold such license and to operate the property under license and demonstrate that it is in the public interest for the transfer to be made.

Sincerely,

for Central Virginia Electric Cooperative
