Pg01 Duplication of TD 90- 22.1	The number of filers is an estimate provided by the form's originating office. It is based upon an extrapolation of filing numbers for similar forms that must be filed. Since this is not a duplicated collection with identical requirements for taxpayers are required to file, precise filing numbers will not be available until the form actually is filed for a complete filing season. Therefore we consider the professional estimate of the originating office as valid.	R1
