PRIVACY ACT STATEMENT

Collection and Use of Information by the Social Security Administration

The Privacy Act of 1974 (5 U.S.C. § 552a) requires us to provide certain facts to each person from whom we request and collect information in order to administer our programs. These facts include:

- the statutory authority for the request;
- why we need the information;
- whether it is voluntary or mandatory for you to give us the information and the effects, if any, of not giving us the information; and
- the uses we may make of the information you give us.

The following sections explain our collection, use, and disclosure of the information you give us. If you have any questions about your rights and responsibilities under the Privacy Act, you may contact any local Social Security office.

Our authority to collect information

Our specific authority to collect information is found in sections 205(a), 702, 1631(e)(1)(A) and (B), 1631(f), 1872, and 1875 of the Social Security Act (the Act), as amended. Additional authority is in part B of the Federal Coal Mine Health and Safety Act of 1969.

Why we need the information

We collect information from you in order to administer our programs. Specifically, the information we request enables us to:

- assign Social Security numbers;
- establish and maintain earnings records;
- determine entitlement of applicants and their families to insurance coverage and or benefit payments;
- issue payments in the right amount for the right months to people entitled to them; and
- conduct program-oriented research in areas of income distribution and maintenance.

Is providing information voluntary or mandatory?

It is not mandatory for you to give us the information we request except in certain instances explained below. It is usually to your advantage to comply with our request for information. Failure to do so, however, could prevent an accurate and timely decision on a claim you file or result in the loss of some benefit or service.

Our use(s) of the information you give us

We use the information you give us to administer our programs. Sometimes we must disclose the information to another agency or person without your written consent. We make these disclosures for the following reasons:

- to enable a third party or agency to assist us in establishing your right to benefits or coverage;
- to comply with Federal laws;
- to make eligibility determinations in similar Federal, State, and local health and income maintenance programs;
- to facilitate statistical research, audit, or investigative activities necessary to assure the integrity of our programs.

We may also use the information you give us when we match records by computer. Computer matching programs compare our records with those of other Federal, State, or local government agencies. We use the information from these matching programs to establish or verify a person's eligibility for Federally-funded or administered benefit programs and for repayment of payments or delinquent debts under these programs.

A complete list of routine uses of the information you give us is available in our Privacy Act Systems of Records Notices. For example, the application for benefits and supporting documentation of the factors of entitlement and continuing eligibility is contained in our Claims Folder System (60-0089); medical information, doctors' reports, and State disability determinations related to a disability claim is contained in our National Disability Determination Services File System (60-0044). Additional information regarding this form, routine uses of information, and other Social Security programs is available from our Internet website at www.socialsecurity.gov or at your local Social Security office.
