OCEAN RECREATION ACTIVITIES WITHIN THE U.S.

Thank you for participating in this study funded by the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), a U.S. government agency with ocean and coastal natural resource management responsibilities. The goal of this study is to learn about the types of ocean recreation you participate in and how important these activities are to you. The information that is collected is vital for evaluating the importance of ocean and coastal recreation in your region in terms of how frequently Americans participate in ocean recreation, the number of jobs these activities support, and the revenue that is generated. Your responses will be combined with others so that all of the information you provide will remain confidential. Your participation in this important study is voluntary.

The focus of this study is ocean recreation within the U.S. – that is, recreation on, in, or in view of oceans, bays, estuaries, coastal wetlands, saltwater bayous, or other seawater areas. This study is not about freshwater activities associated with rivers, creeks, lakes, reservoirs, and ponds.

For this survey, ocean recreation includes the following activities that occur at, in, or in view of oceans, bays, estuaries, coastal wetlands, saltwater bayous, or other seawater areas:

- Recreational fishing from a boat/kayak/canoe/rowboat, from shore, or while diving or spear fishing
- Recreational shellfishing from a boat/kayak/canoe/rowboat, from shore, or while diving
- Hunting waterfowl or other animals for recreation at the ocean or coast
- Viewing or photographing the ocean – including ocean features such as waves and wildlife such as birds, whales, or sea lions – from a boat/kayak/canoe/ rowboat, from shore, or from a car
- Beachcombing, tidepooling, or collecting items such as shells, rocks, fossils, or driftwood
- Water contact sports such as swimming, surfing, wind surfing, body surfing, skimboarding, snorkeling, diving (not associated with fishing), kitesurfing, or jet skiing
- Boating and associated activities such as sailing, kayaking, canoeing, motorized boating, water skiing, wake boarding, or tubing
- Outdoor activities not involving water contact – that you chose to do at the ocean or coast because of the view or access to the water – such as sunbathing, building sandcastles, walking, running, hiking, biking, rollerblading, skateboarding, volleyball, frisbee, kite flying, kite buggies, parasailing, hang gliding, horseback riding, camping, or bonfires

THANK YOU FOR YOUR PARTICIPATION!

Your responses are very important! They will be combined with others and will remain confidential. As mentioned at the beginning of this survey, the information from your responses will help the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) learn more about how important ocean recreation activities are to you.

This nationwide survey is collecting information from respondents like you over a 12 month period from March 2011 through January 2012. To ensure that your responses are accurately accounted for, your continued participation is crucial to the success of this survey. By collecting information throughout the year, we can learn about the variety of ocean recreation activities you do and how often you do them. In the next few months, you may be contacted again and asked to participate in this survey. Your continued participation is truly appreciated!

If you would like to be notified when preliminary results are available in 2012, please check the box below:

- I would like to receive an e-mail notification when preliminary survey results are available.
