Merry-Go-Round
by Langston Hughes

COLORED CHILD AT CARNIVAL

Where is the Jim Crow section
On this merry-go-round,
Mister, cause I want to ride?
Down South where I come from
White and colored
Can't sit side by side.
Down South on the train
There's a Jim Crow car.
On the bus we're put in the back—
But there ain't no back
To a merry-go-round!
Where's the horse
For a kid that's black?

MEANING - What do you think this poem is about? Why might the author have written it? Remember, poems can be interpreted to have many different meanings. There is no ONE right answer!

MOOD - What do you think the mood of this poem is? Why?

USE OF LANGUAGE - Identify images, similes, metaphors, or uses of alliteration that appeal to you. Explain why.

Poetry Idea Map - Please add your ideas and comment on what others have said. Use tools at the left to draw and edit. Add your name at end of comment.

One image for me in the poem is a Merry-go-round just keeps going around and around and doesn't get anywhere. ~Jose

I think the merry-go-round is a good symbol - it has no front or back, so it can't discriminate. ~Mitch

The mood of the poem is sad and unsure but the kid doesn't seem sad. Does the poem seem sad to you? ~Josh

This poem is about racism but I encounter racism differently now. My father is from Japan and my mother is white. Japanese people think I am white and white people think I am Japanese. I feel caught between two worlds - Chelsea

ARCTIC TREK

Collaboration contest

For this collaboration contest, you work with your team and use clues to discover a series of 6 answers.

Here is how a clue works. The first part of the clue directs you to one of the web sites listed to the right. The rest of the clue guides you through the site to find the answer.

This is a timed contest to see what team can come up with the 6 answers first. Good Luck and Happy Hunting!

Collaboration Evaluation

Think about how you just collaborated with your team. Select the scenario that best describes your team collaboration:

- Everyone contributed and we easily came to agreement.
- One or two people dominated the discussion but everyone generally agreed.
- There were several different opinions leading to a productive debate. We eventually came to an agreement.
- There were several different opinions leading to an argument that we couldn't resolve.
- Our discussion was off topic.
- We had no discussion.
