Application Process

This page asks questions relating to the IGCCE application process.

Which system did you use to prepare and submit your proposal? ***

- NSPIRES
- grants.gov

If you had difficulties with NSPIRES, did those difficulties involve: ***

If you had problems with more than one of the options, please indicate that in the "other" box.

- The input process
- The proposal compiling process
- The proposal submission process
- I did not encounter difficulties with the NSPIRES system
- Other:

Approximately how much time did you, members of your team, or support staff at your institution spend on registration in NSPIRES? ***

In order to submit a proposal, the organizations of all team members were required to be registered in the NSPIRES system (or grants.gov) and then team members themselves needed to register as individuals. This multi-step process can take 3 business days or up to several weeks. Estimate the total burden for your proposal to the best of your ability.

Does your institution have a Sponsored Research Office (SRO) or a similar organization to support the proposal submission process? ***

- Yes
- No
- Other:

Was your organization already registered and set up to submit Federal grant proposals? ***

If your organization was not already registered, it would have been required to undergo a registration process.

- Yes
- No

Continued

If your organization was not already set up to submit Federal grant proposals . . .
then your institution had to go through a process to identify an Authorized Organizational Representative (AOR) in order to register the organization. The AOR first obtained a Data Universal Number (DUNS) and then registered the institution in the Contractor Central Registry (CCR), during which process the institution was assigned a CAGE code. If your organization had to undergo this process, please describe any challenges or benefits of which you are aware.

Final Comments

Reflecting on the last several questions, how could the solicitation or the instructions better prepare your institution for and guide you through the process of submitting a proposal?

Please share any further comments you may have on the proposal preparation and submission process.

Thank you for your feedback!

We appreciate your time in completing this questionnaire.
