TITLE OF INFORMATION COLLECTION: Envirofacts Customers-Satisfaction Survey

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this six-questions survey is to better our understanding of how visitors access and use the Envirofacts website, as well as their level of satisfaction with the website. We intend to analyze how satisfaction changes based on audience type, frequency of visits, and intended task. These essential questions will enable us to segment the survey data appropriately (e.g. Are new users searching for location-based information more or less satisfied than other visitors?). We will use the survey results to help us refine the website to better suit the needs of our users.

DESCRIPTION OF RESPONDENTS:

Respondents will consist of visitors to the Envirofacts website who elect to complete the survey. We know that current visitors include members of various business communities, educators, students, and government contractors, among others.
