Dear Resident:

In a few days, you will receive a package in the mail from the U.S. Census Bureau containing a letter from me asking for your participation in a very important national survey. The package will also include a prepaid Verizon cell phone. The Census Bureau is sending you this cell phone because we could not obtain a phone number to contact your household. We ask that you use this cell phone to contact our telephone center toll-free to participate in this survey.

Details about the cell phone and its purpose will be included with the cell phone package.

Thank you in advance for your cooperation. The Census Bureau appreciates your help with this important survey.

Sincerely,

Robert M. Groves
Director, U.S. Census Bureau
