Completed Study

*Mark the choice that most appropriately describes your stage of graduate study. All of your graduate study must be counted, except graduate-level courses taken as an undergraduate or courses currently in progress (i.e., Fall 2007 Term). All courses completed as of August 31, 2008 should be counted.

- Baccalaureate degree in progress or completed with no graduate study. I am in my final year as an undergraduate and will have completed my baccalaureate degree by Fall 2008, or I have my baccalaureate degree and have never been enrolled in a graduate program.
- Graduate study begun in Fall Term 2007. I completed my baccalaureate degree and began graduate study in the Fall Term 2007, or I am in the final year of a joint baccalaureate-master's degree program.
- No more than 12 months of completed graduate study. I have completed some graduate study but no more than 12 months (Fall Term 2006 or later start date), or I completed a joint baccalaureate-master's degree program by Fall Term 2007 with no further graduate study.
- More than 12 months of completed graduate study. I began graduate study prior to Fall Term 2006, but I would like to be considered eligible for the GRF based on extenuating circumstances. (You must complete the Description of Extenuating Circumstances essay.)

Eligibility Essay (for those having completed greater than 12 months of graduate study)

In some cases, applicants may be considered eligible based on extenuating circumstances, such as a significant change of field (including change from a professional to a research-oriented graduate program), interruption in graduate study for financial reasons, or career interruption due to family or medical reasons. The interruption must be for a period of more than two years prior to November 2007. If you have selected "more than 12 months of completed graduate study" in the completed study section, you must explain in a detailed essay the circumstances that you wish to have considered for eligibility determination. All factors that you wish to have considered (e.g., significant change of field, interruption of studies for medical reasons, etc.) must be discussed here. Failure to supply detailed information could result in a determination of ineligibility. The essay should be written in 12 point Times New Roman font and is limited to one page in length (8.5" x 11", 1 inch margins) but may be single-spaced.
