

Attachment 1. Email Invitation

Dear _____,

We are looking for individuals who are [researchers |cancer advocates| press or policy professionals] who use the “Cancer Prevalence and Cost of Care Projections” website (<http://costprojections.cancer.gov/>). Are you one of these individuals?

We plan to test this website to determine if it is meeting the needs of its users. Would you volunteer to donate about an hour of your time to help us improve the website for your use? We are including a consent form that will be part of the testing as that may help give you a better idea of what you will be doing. Before you actually help us test the website, we will get back in touch with you to find out some specifics of your use of the website and to verify your time of participation (see below).

We will have two ways that you can work with us. If you can come to our lab in Rockville, MD, on [Date], we can work with you in-person. Otherwise would you select a date and time for a “remote” meeting?

If you can help, please reply to this email and tell us your phone number. Tell us if you can come to the lab or what times would be convenient for you during the following time periods:
