The School Survey on Crime and Safety (SSOCS) is a nationally representative survey of elementary and secondary school principals, that serves as the primary source of school-level data on crime and safety in public schools. SSOCS is the only recurring federal survey collecting detailed information on the incidence, frequency, seriousness, and nature of violence affecting students and school personnel from the school's perspective. As part of the terms of clearance for the School Survey on Crime and Safety (SSOCS) 2010 and 2012 study (OMB# 1850-0761 v.4, cleared on 10/6/2009), NCES committed, in responses to OMB's passback, to ask Census to keep detailed records of follow up calls and outcomes for the variable C0310 (the numbers of rape or attempted rape) to determine whether over reporting is an issue for this variable. NCES also committed to analyze, after data collection, changes in this variable and to submit the results of that analysis to OMB within one month of receiving the final SSOCS:2010 data file. The results of the analysis are attached in a memo format, along with the aforementioned responses to passback, and fulfill OMB's 2009 terms of clearance.
