

Children 4 months to 44 months-old needed for research study

The Bayley Child Development Study

Is your child between the ages of 4 months and 44 months? Are you interested in learning about your child's cognitive, motor, and language skills? If so, we invite you to participate in a research study. The study sessions will be held at Westat at 1450 Research Boulevard in Rockville, Maryland.

We are looking for children from English-speaking households to participate in a 35-70 minute session. We are interested in observing such skills as crawling, reaching, understanding gestures and words, walking, etc. Parents will receive $25 for participating.

If you would like to participate or want more information, please call NAME at NUMBER and ask about the Bayley Child Development Study. You will be asked a few questions to see if your child is eligible to participate.
