Dear [CITY] Household:

I am pleased to inform you that the U. S. Department of Education has selected your household to participate in the 2012 National Household Education Survey. This survey collects information on the education of people in the United States. The study provides vital information that is used to improve education for everyone - information that is not available anywhere else. The results will help policymakers, researchers, and educators understand the educational needs of our diverse population in changing times. This survey is about all of us!

Your household was chosen at random as part of this scientific study, and we cannot replace you with someone else. Although your participation is voluntary, your answers will make sure that households like yours are counted. Every type of household in America needs to be included in the survey.

You should receive the survey in the mail within the next week.

- It usually takes 5 minutes or less to fill out the survey.
- We will include a small token of our appreciation for your participation in this study with the survey.

If you would like more information on the study, please visit <http://surveys.nces.ed.gov/nhes/> or contact the U.S. Census Bureau, the agency conducting this study on our behalf, at X-XXX-XXX-XXXX.

Thank you in advance for your assistance with this important study.

Sincerely,

Jack Buckley
Commissioner
National Center for Education
Statistics

Authorization and Confidentiality of Information

The National Center for Education Statistics within the U.S. Department of Education is authorized to conduct this survey under Section 9543, 20 U.S. Code. The U.S. Census Bureau is conducting this study for the U.S. Department of Education. Your participation is voluntary. Be assured that your answers will only be used for statistical purposes and that your individual responses will be protected to the fullest extent allowable under law (Section 9573, 20 U.S. Code). Your responses will be combined with those of others to produce statistics about the educational experiences of all Americans.

Dear [CITY] Household:

The U.S. Department of Education is conducting an important national research study, and we need your help. This survey is the first step in a study that provides vital information that is used to improve education for people of all ages - this information is not available anywhere else.

Please fill out this survey and mail it back in the postage-paid envelope that is provided.

- It usually takes 5 minutes or less to fill out these initial questions and only a few seconds if no one in your household is age 20 or younger.
- The questionnaire will help us find households with children and youths. This information is used to later ask those households about their educational experiences.
- Even if you have no infants or children in your household, it is important that you return this survey so that every type of household in America is represented. Simply answer the first question on the enclosed form and return it in the envelope that is provided.
- The results of this study will help policymakers, researchers, and educators understand the educational needs of our diverse population in changing times.

Your household was chosen as part of this voluntary scientific study, and we cannot replace you with someone else. All information you provide may only be used for statistical purposes and may not be disclosed, or used, in identifiable form for any other purpose except as required by law (Section 9573, 20 U.S. Code).

We have enclosed a {cash} token of our appreciation. The U.S. Census Bureau is conducting this survey on our behalf. If you have questions or need assistance, please contact them at X-XXX-XXX-XXXX. You can find more information about this study online at <http://surveys.nces.ed.gov/nhes/>.

Thank you for taking part in this important study.

Dear [CITY] Household:

The U.S. Department of Education is conducting an important national research study, and we need your help. In early January, we mailed a survey to your address and asked that a member of your household complete and return the questionnaire. We have not yet received your response. We are writing again because we need your help. This survey is the first step in a study that provides vital information that is used to improve education for people of all ages - information that is not available anywhere else.

Please fill out this survey and mail it back in the postage-paid envelope that is provided.

- It usually takes only a few minutes to fill out.
- The brief questionnaire enclosed will help us find households with children and youths. This information is used to later ask those households about their educational experiences.
- Even if you have no children in your household, it is important to us that you return this survey. Every type of household in America needs to be included.

Your household was chosen as part of this voluntary scientific study, and we cannot replace you with someone else. Dear [CITY] Household:

I am writing to request that a member of your household complete a brief questionnaire as part of an important national research study being conducted by the U.S. Department of Education. I have written twice previously, but we have not yet received your completed questionnaire.

We have mailed this third questionnaire using rush delivery because of the importance of your response.

As mentioned in earlier letters, this short questionnaire is the first step in a study that provides valuable information that is used to improve education for people of all ages – information that is not available anywhere else. The results will help policymakers, researchers, and educators understand the educational needs of our nation. Your household was selected to represent thousands of households like yours, and every type of household in America needs to be included in the survey.

The U.S. Census Bureau is conducting this survey on our behalf. If you have questions or need assistance, please contact them at X-XXX-XXX-XXXX. You can find more information about this study online at <http://surveys.nces.ed.gov/nhes/>.

Please fill out the enclosed questionnaire and return it in the postage-paid envelope as soon as possible. Thank you for taking part in this important study.

Dear Parent of {CHILD}:

A few weeks ago your household completed a short survey for the U.S. Department of Education. Thank you for your response. I'm now asking you to help us by completing the final part of this important study. The study is used by educators, policymakers, and researchers to understand the educational experiences and needs of all children in the United States.

The survey you returned to us stated that the child listed below lives in this household. When completing the enclosed survey please answer about:

{Child, age X, Xth grade}

This national education study will provide much-needed information about children's early learning, the programs in which children participate, and how families prepare children for school. Your response to this survey is important as it will help provide a clear picture of children's educational experiences in the United States. Please be assured that your participation is voluntary and all information you give may be used only for statistical purposes and may not be disclosed, or used, in identifiable form for any other purpose except as required by law (Section 9573, 20 US Code). Dear [CITY] Household:

I am pleased to inform you that the U. S. Census Bureau has selected your household to participate in the 2012 National Household Education Survey, which we are conducting on behalf of the U.S. Department of Education. This survey collects information on the education of people in the United States. The study provides vital information that is used to improve education for everyone – information that is not available anywhere else. The results will help policymakers, researchers, and educators understand the educational needs of our diverse population in changing times. This survey is about all of us!

Your household was chosen at random as part of this scientific study, and we cannot replace you with someone else. Although your participation is voluntary, your answers will make sure that households like yours are counted. Every type of household in America needs to be included in the survey.

You should receive the survey in the mail within the next week.

- It usually takes 5 minutes or less to fill out the survey.
- We will include a small token of our appreciation for your participation in this study with the survey.

If you would like more information on the study, please visit <http://surveys.nces.ed.gov/nhes/> or contact us at X-XXX-XXX-XXXX.

Thank you in advance for your assistance with this important study.

Sincerely,

Robert Groves
Director
U.S. Census Bureau

The National Center for Education Statistics within the U.S. Department of Education is authorized to conduct this survey under Section 9543, 20 U.S. Code. The U.S. Census Bureau is conducting this study for the U.S. Department of Education. Your participation is voluntary. Be assured that your answers will only be used for statistical purposes and that your individual responses will be protected to the fullest extent allowable under law (Section 9573, 20 U.S. Code). Your responses will be combined with those of others to produce statistics about the educational experiences of all Americans.

Dear [CITY] Household:

The U.S. Census Bureau is conducting an important national research study for the U.S. Department of Education, and we need your help. This survey is the first step in a study that provides vital information that is used to improve education for people of all ages – this information is not available anywhere else.

Please fill out this survey and mail it back in the postage-paid envelope that is provided.

- It usually takes 5 minutes or less to fill out these initial questions and only a few seconds if no one in your household is age 20 or younger.
- The questionnaire will help us find households with children and youths. This information is used to later ask those households about their educational experiences.
- Even if you have no infants or children in your household, it is important that you return this survey so that every type of household in America is represented. Simply answer the first question on the enclosed form and return it in the envelope that is provided.
- The results of this study will help policymakers, researchers, and educators understand the educational needs of our diverse population in changing times.

Your household was chosen as part of this voluntary scientific study, and we cannot replace you with someone else. All information you provide may only be used for statistical purposes and may not be disclosed, or used, in identifiable form for any other purpose except as required by law (Section 9573, 20 U.S. Code).

We have enclosed a {cash} token of our appreciation. If you have questions or need assistance, please contact us at X-XXX-XXX-XXXX. You can find more information about this study online at <http://surveys.nces.ed.gov/nhes/>.

Thank you for taking part in this important study.

Sincerely,

Robert Groves

Dear [CITY] Household:

I am writing to request that a member of your household complete a brief questionnaire as part of an important national research study being conducted by the U.S. Census Bureau for the U.S. Department of Education. I have written twice previously, but we have not yet received your completed questionnaire.

We have mailed this third questionnaire using rush delivery because of the importance of your response.

As mentioned in earlier letters, this short questionnaire is the first step in a study that provides valuable information that is used to improve education for people of all ages - information that is not available anywhere else. The results will help policymakers, researchers, and educators understand the educational needs of our nation. Your household was selected to represent thousands of households like yours, and every type of household in America needs to be included in the survey.

Dear Parent of {CHILD}:

A few weeks ago your household completed a short survey that the U.S. Census Bureau is conducting for the U.S. Department of Education. Thank you for your response. I'm now asking you to help us by completing the final part of this important study. The study is used by educators, policymakers, and researchers to understand the educational experiences and needs of all children in the United States.

The survey you returned to us stated that the child listed below lives in this household. When completing the enclosed survey please answer about:

{Child, age X, Xth grade}

This national education study will provide much-needed information about children's early learning, the programs in which children participate, and how families prepare children for school. Your response to this survey is important as it will help provide a clear picture of children's educational experiences in the United States. Please be assured that your participation is voluntary and all information you give may be used only for statistical purposes and may not be disclosed, or used, in identifiable form for any other purpose except as required by law (Section 9573, 20 US Code).
