All continuation sheets should identify the country, date of preparation, PM/DDTC registrant/applicant code, and total dollar value shown on the application form.
2. Descriptive Literature: Two sets for applications with identical precedent (e.g., spare parts shipment); seven sets for all others.
3. Precedent Approvals: One copy each of precedent license(s) or agreement(s) for applications with identical histories; seven copies for all others. Include any proviso letter(s).
4. Verification of Purchase: One copy of purchase order, letter of intent, or other appropriate document from purchaser, which indicates end use, end user, quantity and price.

6. Letter of Explanation: When appropriate to explain a complicated case. Original plus attachments for cases with identical precedents; original and six copies

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

1. "RETURN TO APPLICANT" should be stamped on each copy of descriptive literature that the company wishes to have returned.
2. Copies of information must be collated into sets.
3. Photocopies of approved licenses may be made for recordkeeping purposes only, not for making shipments.
4. Hardware applications (defense articles excluding technical data) may reflect only one country of ultimate destination. Defense articles and related data may not be re-exported or transferred to any other country or to a national of any other country without the prior written approval of the U.S. Department of State.
5. Several countries may be listed in block 4 for technical data exports only. However, when the countries of ultimate destination are geographically dispersed, submit a separate application for each major geographical region (e.g., Africa, South Asia, East Asia, Europe, etc.). An addendum to the application must identify all countries/parties to the export.
6. Customs authorities may authorize shipments of hardware when the total value of the shipment does not exceed the aggregate value on the license by more than 10%. If the value has increased by more than 10% a new license is required. Quantities may not be amended, and additions should be treated as new orders and result in a new license request.
7. End use must be indicated in writing before applying for licenses. Hardware applications must be accompanied by the customer's verification of purchase or other appropriate document which indicates end use, end user, price and quantity.
8. All applications for SME valued at $14 million or more for end use by foreign armed forces (other than a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, Australia, New Zealand or Japan) must include a statement referring to prior approval or prior notification by the U.S. State Department in Item 11 or in an attached cover letter (see 22 CFR 126.8).
9. Firearms and firearm ammunition applications must be accompanied by import verification issued by the government of the recipient country, if applicable.
10. Provide the facility security clearance code (FSC) and safeguarding level of each commercial party that will have access or title to, or custody or control of, the shipment. The Defense Investigative Service (DIS) Cognizant Security Office should be requested to obtain this information for each foreign commercial intermediate and ultimate consignee. If a party to this transaction has applied for, but not received the FSC, type "Application Pending" in the appropriate space.
11. For blocks 16, 17, 18, 19, and 20, be sure to include the Facility Clearance Code, the level of the clearance, and the date of the FSC. Be specific, since this may or may not be the applicant. For blocks 17 and 19, contact your local Defense Investigative Service (DIS) office to obtain the required FSC data.
