

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING AND FILING REPORTS ON CFTC FORM 404A
(See Regulations Under the Commodity Exchange Act)

WHO SHOULD REPORT: All persons (individuals, partnerships, associations, corporations, or trusts) who intend to hold or control a position in Referenced Contracts,¹ separately or in combination, net long or net short, in excess of the position limits pursuant to regulation § 151.4 due to anticipated cash market commodity activity as defined in the following paragraphs of § 151.5: (a)(2)(i)(B), (a)(2)(ii)(C), (a)(2)(v), (a)(2)(vi); or (a)(2)(vii); or a cross hedge of one of the anticipated activities as provide for under § 151.5(a)(2)(viii).

WHAT TO REPORT: Report the information called for in Section A-E as applicable, by each Core Referenced Futures Contract (CRFC).² In general, all derivatives positions (futures, options, and swaps) should be measured as futures-equivalents in the applicable CRFC. Conversions to CRFC equivalents should use economically reasonable and analytically supported deltas. Use units (e.g., 1000 bu., 1000 bbls., cwt., etc.) and conversion factors usual and common to your business. If you have a zero position in a data element, indicate by a zero.

Section A: Complete this Section if you are availing yourself of an enumerated bona fide hedging provision related to anticipated production under § 151.5(a)(2)(i)(B) or a cross hedge of anticipated production as provided for under regulation § 151.5(a)(2)(viii).

For each CRFC in which you intend to exceed position limits, report the following: the name of the actual cash commodity; the units in which the cash commodity is measured; the time period for which you are claiming the anticipatory hedge exemption; the actual production of that cash market commodity during each of the three complete fiscal years preceding the current fiscal year; the anticipated production of that cash market commodity for the period specified; the unsold anticipated production of that cash market commodity for the period specified; and, the maximum number of Referenced Contracts (on an all-months-combined basis) that are expected to be used for hedging activity for the period specified.

In addition, for each commodity listed, provide a description of the anticipated cash market production to be hedged and how the sale of Referenced Contracts is consistent with the provisions of § 151.5(a)(1) and § 151.5(a)(2)(i)(B) . In the event that a cross hedge is being claimed for the first time, you must supply a description of the conversion methodology consistent with § 151.5(g).

Section B: Complete this Section if you are availing yourself of an enumerated bona fide hedging provision related to anticipated requirements under § 151.5(a)(2)(ii)(C) or a cross hedge of anticipated requirements as provided for under regulation § 151.5(a)(2)(viii).

For each CRFC in which you intend to exceed position limits, report the following: the name of the actual cash commodity that is anticipated to be required for processing, manufacturing, or use; the units in which the cash commodity is measured; the time period for which you are claiming the anticipatory hedge exemption; the actual requirements for that cash market commodity during each of the three complete fiscal years preceding the current fiscal year; the anticipated requirements of that cash market commodity for the period specified; the unfilled anticipated requirements of that cash market commodity for the period specified; and, the maximum number of Referenced Contracts (on an all-months-combined basis) that are expected to be used for hedging activity for the period specified.

In addition, for each commodity listed, provide a description of the anticipated cash market requirements to be hedged and how the purchase of Referenced Contracts are consistent with the provisions of § 151.5(a)(1) and § 151.5(a)(2)(ii)(C) . In the event that a cross hedge is being claimed for the first time, you must supply a description of the conversion methodology consistent with § 151.5(g).

Section C: Complete this Section if you are availing yourself of an enumerated bona fide hedging provision related to anticipated merchandising under § 151.5(a)(2)(v) or a cross hedge for anticipated merchandising as provided for under regulation § 151.5(a)(2)(viii).

For each CRFC in which you intend to exceed position limits, report the following: the name of the actual cash commodity that is anticipated to be merchandised; the units in which the cash commodity is measured; the time period for which you are claiming the anticipatory hedge exemption, which may not exceed one year; the actual merchandising (bought and sold) of that cash market commodity through the storage facility(ies) during each of the three complete fiscal years preceding the current fiscal year; the anticipated merchandising (purchases and sales) of that cash market commodity for the period specified; the unfilled merchandising requirements (bought and sold) of that cash market commodity; the maximum number of Referenced Contracts long and short (on an all-months-combined basis) that are expected to be used for hedging anticipated merchandising activity for the period specified; the anticipated total storage capacity that is owned or leased for the period specified; total storage capacity that was owned or leased for the last three fiscal years preceding the current year; anticipated purchases and sales during the period specified; the quantity of commodity moved in and out of the storage facility; and current inventory as of the filing date.

In addition, for each commodity listed, provide a description of the anticipated merchandising activity to be hedged and how the offsetting purchases and sales of Referenced Contracts are consistent with the provisions of § 151.5(a)(1) and § 151.5(a)(2)(v) . In the event that a cross hedge is being claimed for the first time, the person filing this form shall supply a description of the conversion methodology consistent with § 151.5(g).

Section D: Complete this Section if you are availing yourself of an enumerated bona fide hedging provision related to anticipated royalties under § 151.5(a)(2)(vi) or a cross hedge of anticipated royalties as provided for under regulation § 151.5(a)(2)(viii).

For each CRFC in which you intend to exceed position limits, report the following: the name of the actual cash commodity from which the change in value of the royalty arises; the units in which the cash commodity is measured; the time period for which you are claiming the anticipatory hedge exemption; the quantities of the cash commodity from which the actual royalties were received during each of the three complete fiscal years preceding the current fiscal year; the anticipated quantities of the cash commodity for which royalties will be paid for the period specified; and, the maximum number of Referenced Contracts (on an all-months-combined basis) that are expected to be used for hedging activity for the period specified.

In addition, for each commodity listed, provide a description of the anticipated royalties to be hedged and how the purchases of Referenced Contracts are consistent with the provisions of § 151.5(a)(1) and § 151.5(a)(2)(vi). In the event that a cross hedge is being claimed for the first time, the person filing this form shall supply a description of the conversion methodology consistent with § 151.5(g).

Section E: Complete this Section if you are availing yourself of an enumerated bona fide hedging provision related to anticipated services under § 151.5(a)(2)(vii) or a cross hedge for anticipated services as provided for under regulation § 151.5(a)(2)(viii).

For each CRFC in which you intend to exceed position limits, report the following: the name of the actual cash commodity from which the change in value of the services contract arises; the units in which the cash commodity is measured; the time period for you are claiming the anticipatory hedge exemption; the quantities of the cash commodity from which the actual service contract payments or receipts were paid or received during each of the three complete fiscal years preceding the current fiscal year; the anticipated quantities of the cash commodity for which service contract payments or receipts will be paid for the period specified; and, the maximum number of Referenced Contracts long and short (on an all-months-combined basis) that are expected to be used for hedging activity for the period specified.

In addition, for each commodity listed, provide a description of the anticipated service contract payment or receipts to be hedged and how the purchases of Referenced Contracts are consistent with the provisions of § 151.5(a)(1) and § 151.5(a)(2)(vii). In the event that a cross hedge is being claimed for the first time, the person filing this form shall supply a description of the conversion methodology consistent with § 151.5(g).

WHEN TO REPORT: Report at least ten business days in advance of the date that transactions and positions would be established that would exceed a position limit set forth in § 151.4.

WHERE TO REPORT: Generally, a CFTC Form 404A should be submitted via the CFTC's web based Form 404A submission process at [web address]. If submission through the web-based process is impractical, the reporting trader shall contact the Commission at [email address] or [phone number] for further instruction.
