Instructions for Reporting by Occupation

- Report employees in the occupations in which they are working, not in occupations for which they have been trained.
For example: An employee trained as an engineer, but working as a drafter, should be reported as a drafter.
- Report each employee only once in the occupation that requires the highest level of skill if the employee performs work in two or more occupations. If there is no measurable difference in skill requirements, report employees in the occupation in which they spend the most time.
- Use the description of duties along with the job titles to determine where to place employees. Do not rely on job titles alone.
- Report apprentices and trainees in the job for which they are being trained. Report helpers separately because they are not in training for the occupation they are helping.
- Report part-time workers in the job they perform.
- Professionals who directly supervise other workers in professional occupations should be classified in the same occupation as the workers they supervise. For example, a drafter that supervises other drafters is classified as a drafter.
- Workers in Service, Sales, Office and Administrative, Forestry and Farming, Production, Maintenance, and Transportation occupations who spend 80 percent or more of their time performing supervisory duties should be reported as supervisors. Workers with supervisory duties who spend less than 80 percent of their time supervising should be reported with the workers they supervise.
