SPECIFIC QUESTIONS

1. Describe the project and its purpose:

The National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP) has developed the Elevation Certificate and Floodproofing Certificate. The two certificates are used in conjunction with the flood insurance application in order to properly rate Post-FIRM structures in Special Flood Hazard Areas (44 CFR 61.7, 61.8) for flood insurance. Post-FIRM structures are those buildings constructed after publication of the Flood Insurance Rate Map (FIRM) for the community. Flood insurance may be purchased either directly from FEMA (NFIP Direct) through a licensed insurance agent/broker or from a private sector insurance company participating the FEMA Write-Your-Own Program. Upon completion of the Elevation Certificate by a licensed surveyor or the completion of the Floodproofing Certificate by an architect or engineer, the certificates are provided to the NFIP Direct Servicing Agent (NFIP Direct) by the property owner's insurance agent (or insurance broker) along with an application for flood insurance. The certificates are maintained by the NFIP Direct. These form may also be used by insurance companies (such as Nationwide) that participate in the Write-Your-Own Program; however, the insurance company collects and maintains the forms for their records and they are not sent to or collected by FEMA. FEMA collection of the Elevation Certificate and Floodproofing Certificate through it's NFIP Direct process is strictly paper based and is part of information collection OMB No. 1660-0008.

2. Status of Project:

This is a new development effort.

This an existing project.

7. Is the contact information only being used for the purpose for which it originally was collected, i.e., to contact individuals?

Yes.

No.

8. With whom could the information be shared?

The NFIP Direct Serving Agent (contracted by FEMA to issue NFIP policies) does not share this information with outside sources.

Property owners may choose to submit the certificates to local or tribal government offices for purposes not related to obtaining flood insurance. However, any information transferred by the property owner is not collected by FEMA. Likewise, property owners may choose to submit the certificates along with an application for flood insurance when obtaining flood insurance from a private sector insurance company participating in the NFIP Write-Your-Own Program. FEMA does not collect or maintain these certificates; they are maintained in the private companies' files.
