Commissions - Defined as services related to trades in securities which include both brokerage services, where fees or commissions are received; and dealing or market making services, where a spread is earned from dealing in equity instruments, in derivatives contracts, and in debt instruments. Exclude trading on own account.

Brokering and dealing products - Defined to include equity instruments, such as common and preferred stocks, convertible bonds, warrants, etc.; derivative contracts; debt instruments, such as asset-backed securities and securities issued by government sponsored enterprise, collateralized mortgage obligations (CMO) and real estate mortgage income conduits (REMICs); and investment company securities, such as mutual funds or open-end funds, closed-end funds, unit investment trusts, fixed-income funds, equity funds, and balanced funds.

Individual - Refers to a person or household spending, investing, or saving their own money on their own behalf. All money managers in any form (such as fund managers or investment advisors) or investment funds should be treated as businesses.

How much of the revenue reported in SA was received from the following sources of revenue in third and second quarters of 2012?

- A. Fees and commissions from brokering and dealing products from individuals
