TERRORISM RISK INSURANCE PROGRAM Data Call - General Instructions

The Terrorism Risk Insurance Act of 2002, as amended, (TRIA) imposes notice to Congress and determination requirements on Treasury with respect to recoupment of the Federal share of compensation and with regard to the cap on annual liability for insured losses of $100 billion. To meet these requirements Treasury will need information regarding aggregate insured losses to determine the amount, if any, of recoupment or imposition of pro ration of loss payments to insureds.

Treasury regulation, 31 C.F.R. 50.71(d), provides that, "For the purpose of determining initial or recalculated recoupment amounts, Treasury may issue a data call to insurers for insured loss information by Program Year. Treasury's determination of the aggregate amount of insured losses from Program Trigger Events of all insurers for a Program Year will be based on the loss amounts reported in response to [this] data call and any other information Treasury in its discretion considers appropriate." Similarly 31 C.F.R. 50.94 provides that, "For the purpose of determining initial or recalculated Pro Rata Loss Percentages Treasury may issue a data call to insurers for insured loss information. Submission of data in response to a data call shall be on a form promulgated by Treasury."

Insurers are to report aggregate insured losses arising out of Program Trigger Events broken out by cat code and line of business. Paid losses and reserves must be reported as separate fields. Losses allocated to an insurer from a residual market mechanism should be included, and losses ceded to such a mechanism should be excluded.
