

EPA that may be used to satisfy a federal environmental reporting requirement. Specifically, section 3.10 of subpart B requires that electronic documents be submitted to an appropriate EPA electronic document receiving system that has been designated by the Administrator. Additionally, where a paper document must bear a signature under an existing regulation, CROMERR requires that an electronic document that substitutes for the paper document must be signed with a valid electronic signature.

Generally, EPA's designated electronic document receiving system is CDX, which is consistent with the standards for electronic document receiving systems set forth in CROMERR § 3.2000(b) of subpart D. CDX, developed and maintained by the Office of Environmental Information, serves as EPA's gateway for receiving documents electronically from the reporting community. CDX streamlines and consolidates EPA's reporting by offering the reporting community faster, easier, and more secure submission options through a single venue. As a cornerstone of EPA's efforts to advance electronic government, CDX supports electronic submission of environmental data for air, water, waste, and toxic programs from thousands of regulated entities. In developing CROMERR, EPA recognized that CDX would be subject to change over time and that such changes could affect regulated entities that participate in electronic reporting. Therefore, CROMERR subpart B requires EPA to provide notice when the Agency plans to change CDX hardware, software, or services. Section 3.20 of the regulation distinguishes four categories of CDX changes: Significant, Other, De minimis or Transparent and Emergency changes.

Today's notice announces EPA's plans to take advantage of opportunities offered by evolving technologies to improve CDX services by modernizing the user registration process and providing additional user functionality. This change is considered an Other Change under § 3.20(a)(2) of the regulation and requires EPA to provide notice to CDX users at least sixty (60) days in advance of implementation. Specific changes include:

- New user-friendly features that will make CDX registration easier, such as the ability to search for reporting programs and organizations, and activate accounts via email;
- Additional "My CDX" user profile functions, such as the ability to change an account password from the user profile page, a standardized list of security questions, and automated reminders for account password expiration; and

- New user profile page "Alerts" and "News and Updates" sections that will provide CDX users with timely general system information, as well as program specific information.

In accordance with 40 CFR 3.20(a)(2), EPA is providing this notice to CDX users at least sixty (60) days in advance of implementation of the changes described above.

Overview of Information Collection

Collection Title: Demographic Information on Applicants.

OMB Control No.: 3046-0046.

Description of Affected Public: Individuals submitting applications for federal employment.

Number of Responses: 26,854,281.

Estimated Time per Respondent: 3 minutes.

Total Burden Hours: 1,342,714 [(26,854,281x3)/60].

Federal Cost: None.

Abstract: Under section 717 of Title VII and 501 of the Rehabilitation Act, the Commission is charged with reviewing and approving federal agencies plans to affirmatively address potential discrimination before it occurs. Pursuant to such oversight responsibilities, the Commission has established systems to monitor compliance with Title VII and the Rehabilitation Act by requiring federal agencies to evaluate their employment practices through the collection and analysis of data on the race, national origin, sex and disability status of applicants for both permanent and temporary employment.

While several federal agencies (or components of such agencies) have obtained OMB approval for the use of forms collecting data on the race, national origin, sex and disability status of applicants, it is not an efficient use of government resources for each federal agency to separately seek OMB approval. Accordingly, in order to avoid unnecessary duplication of effort and a proliferation of forms, the EEOC seeks approval of a form to be used by federal agencies.

Response by applicants is optional. The information obtained will be used by federal agencies only for evaluating whether an agency's recruitment activities are effectively reaching all segments of the relevant labor pool and whether the agency's selection procedures allow all applicants to compete on a level-playing field regardless of race, national origin, or sex. The voluntary responses are treated in a highly confidential manner and play no part in the selection. The information is not provided to any panel rating the applications, to selecting officials, to anyone who can affect the application or to the public. Rather, the information is used in summary form to determine trends over many selections within a given occupational or organization area. No information from the form is entered into an official personnel file.

Burden Statement: In fiscal year 2011, EEOC gathered data from the 59 federal agencies required to collect applicant data. Based on the agency responses, we expect that 26,854,281 applicants will be asked to complete the form.

Because of the predominant use of online application systems, which require only pointing and clicking on the selected responses, and because the form requests only eight questions regarding basic information, the EEOC estimates that an applicant can complete the form in approximately 3 minutes or less.

OMB is particularly interested in comments which: (1) Evaluate whether the proposed collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the Commission's functions, including whether the information will have practical utility; (2) Evaluate the accuracy of the Commission's estimate of the burden of the proposed collection of information, including the validity of the methodology and assumptions used; (3) Enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected; and (4) Minimize the burden of the collection of information on those who are to respond, including the use of appropriate automated, electronic, mechanical, or other technological collection techniques or other forms of information technology, e.g., permitting electronic submission of responses.

Dated: May 29, 2012.

For the Commission.

Chair.
