

APPLICATION TO SERVE AS A SMALL ENTITY REPRESENTATIVE Consumer Financial Protection Bureau

The Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (“CFPB”) may obtain input from small businesses and other entities that are likely to be directly affected by a regulation that the CFPB may issue. Under the law, when a rule under development may have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities, representatives from the CFPB, the Chief Counsel for Advocacy of the Small Business Administration, and the Office of Management and Budget’s Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs form a Small Business Review Panel (“SBREFA Panel or “Panel”). The Panel then meets with a selected group of representatives from small businesses and other entities.

During the Panel outreach meeting, the CFPB reviews the regulatory proposals and options or alternatives under consideration with the participating small entity representatives. The representatives then discuss and provide the Panel with important feedback on the potential costs and other economic impacts of complying with the proposed regulations under consideration and any potential regulatory alternatives to minimize these impacts while accomplishing the objectives of applicable statutes. During the Panel outreach meeting or a separate consultation meeting with small entities, the CFPB may also solicit feedback on how the proposals under consideration may impact the cost of credit for small entities and ways to minimize any such impact. Small entity representatives will also have an opportunity to provide feedback through the submission of written comments.

The CFPB is looking for individual representatives of small businesses and other organizations who are interested in meeting with the Panel or participating in other CFPB outreach meetings and providing feedback on the potential economic impacts of proposed regulations under consideration. This form will allow the CFPB to compile a list of potential representatives of small businesses and other organizations.

If you or your institution is interested in participating, please provide us with your contact information and information on the institution you represent. Some respondents may then be contacted and asked to participate in a Panel outreach meeting or other CFPB outreach event.

Privacy Act Notice

The information that you provide will be used by the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB) to determine qualifications, suitability and availability for service on/to advisory boards, bodies, panels, committees or groups or as a small entity representative to provide feedback to a Small Business Review Panel (SBREFA panel). The contact and background information is shared with the Small Business Administration (SBA). The information/advice we collect for SBREFA panels may be shared with other agencies, specifically SBA and the Office of Management and Budget, who are SBREFA panel members. The information collected will be for annual reports on advisory boards, bodies, panels, committees or other similar groups. The information will be used by and disclosed to employees, contractors, agents, and others authorized by the CFPB to receive this information to assist in related activities. Additionally, the names and biographies of panel members will be released to the public.

The information may also be disclosed to:

- the office of the President or a member of Congress;
- to a court, a party in litigation, a magistrate, an adjudicative body or administrative tribunal in the course of a proceeding, or the Department of Justice; and
- to other federal or state agencies or regulatory authorities for enforcement and statutory purposes.

The collection of this information is authorized by Pub. L. No. 111-203, Title X, sections 1011, 1012, 1014, codified at 12 U.S.C. §§ 5491, 5492, 5494.

According to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995, an agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to a collection of information unless it displays a valid OMB control number. The valid OMB control number for this collection is 3170-XXXX. The time required to complete this information collection is estimated to average approximately 10 minutes per response, including the time for reviewing instructions, searching existing data sources, gathering and maintaining the data needed, and completing and reviewing the collection of information.

The Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB) prohibits discrimination in all its programs and activities on the basis of race, color, national origin, gender, religion, age, political beliefs, sexual orientation, marital or family status, parental status or protected genetic information. (Not all prohibited bases apply to all programs.) Persons with disabilities who require alternative means of communication of program information (Braille, large print, audiotape, etc.) should contact Liza Strong, Labor and Employee Relations, Office of Human Capital. To file a complaint of discrimination, contact the Treasury Department at 202-622-9252. CFPB is an equal opportunity provider and employer.
