

VO: You are the keeper of the family healthcare knowledge.

VO: You know the medical histories, the prescriptions, the immunizations, the test results.

VO: You may be called upon - day or night - to remember and to accurately report every single detail.

VO: It is your responsibility to keep the data for your kids.

VO: Your husband

VO: Great Aunt Emma. They all rely on you. To remember it all.

What if you were unavailable when your mom needed it? What if your child had an emergency and the best treatment was delayed waiting on that vital information in your head.

VO: Now with BlueButton, you can relieve some of that pressure on yourself by having secure online access to your personal health information. You have enough responsibilities!

VO: Electronic health records are available now, and you have every right to access them, use them, and share them.

VO: Visit medicare.gov/bluebutton and take control of your health history. It's not only the easiest way to make sure your health future is the best it can be. It's really using your head.
