We are conducting research on how satisfied users of this program are with services provided in partnership with the federal government as part of the American Customer Satisfaction Index. The Department of Veterans Affairs is committed to premier customer service and is conducting this research to help improve its services to you and others like you. Your answers are voluntary and we will not ask any questions about confidential information. If at any time you do not feel comfortable answering a question, please say so. Your responses will remain anonymous and you will never be identified by name.
