Title: Bank Secrecy Act Suspicious Activity Report (BSA–SAR).

Form: FinCEN 111.

Abstract: In 1992, the Treasury was granted broad authority to require suspicious transaction reporting under the Bank Secrecy Act (31 U.S.C. 5318(g)). FinCEN, which has been delegated authority to administer the Bank Secrecy Act, joined with the bank regulators in 1996 in requiring, on a consolidated form (the SAR form), reports of suspicious transactions (31 CFR 1020.320). FinCEN and the bank regulators adopted the suspicious activity report (“SAR”) in 1996 to simplify the process through which depository institutions (“banks”) inform their regulators and law enforcement about suspected criminal activity. The SAR was updated in 1999 and again in 2003 (§ 1020.320). In separate actions FinCEN expanded the SAR reporting to money services businesses (March, 2000, 31 CFR 1022.320), broker dealers in securities (July, 2002, 31 CFR 1023.320), casinos (September 2002, § 1021.320) certain futures commission merchants (November, 2003, § 1026.320), life insurance companies (November 2005, § 1025.320), mutual funds (May, 2006, § 1024.320), and non-bank residential mortgage lenders and originators (31 CFR 1029.320). All reporting financial institutions are required to retain a copy of any SAR filed and supporting documentation for the filing of the SAR for five years. See the above listed 31 CFR references and 31 CFR 1010.430. These documents are necessary for criminal investigations and prosecutions. The filing of a SAR is necessary to prevent and detect the laundering of money and other funds at the filing institutions.

Affected Public: Private sector: Businesses or other for-profits, not-for-profit institutions.

Estimated Total Burden Hours: 3,284,320.

Interagency Appraisal Complaint Form—(OMB Control Number OCC 1557-NEW; FDIC 3064-NEW; NCUA 3133-NEW)

Under section 1473(p) of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act,¹ if the Appraisal Subcommittee ("ASC"), a subcommittee of the Federal Financial Institutions Examination Council (FFIEC), determines, six months after enactment of that section (i.e., January 21, 2011) that no national hotline exists to receive complaints of non-compliance with appraisal independence standards and Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice (USPAP), including complaints from appraisers, individuals, or other entities concerning the improper influencing or attempted improper influencing of appraisers or the appraisal process, then the ASC shall establish and operate such a hotline ("ASC Hotline"), which shall include a toll-free telephone number and an email address. Section 1473(p) further directs the ASC to refer complaints received through the ASC Hotline to the appropriate government bodies for further action, which may include referrals to the Agencies, Federal Reserve Board, Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, and State agencies. The ASC determined that a national appraisal hotline does not exist at a meeting held on January 12, 2011, and a notice of this determination was published in the Federal Register on January 28, 2011 (76 FR 5161). Currently, the ASC is in the process of establishing the ASC hotline, which will refer complaints to appropriate state and federal regulators.

Representatives from the Agencies, the Federal Reserve Board, and the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau have been meeting to establish a process to facilitate the referral of complaints received through the ASC Hotline to the appropriate federal financial institution regulatory agency or agencies. The

Agencies and the Federal Reserve Board have developed the Interagency Appraisal Complaint Form to collect information necessary to take further action on the complaint. In preparing this notice, the Agencies have availed themselves of all means reasonably available to determine accurate estimates of the number of complaints they anticipate receiving as the result of the Interagency Appraisal Complaint Form.

Description of the Interagency Appraisal Complaint Form

The Agencies and the Federal Reserve Board developed the Interagency Appraisal Complaint Form for use by those who wish to file a formal, written complaint that an entity subject to the jurisdiction of one or more Agencies or the Federal Reserve Board has failed to comply with the appraisal independence standards or USPAP. The Interagency Appraisal Complaint Form is designed to collect information necessary for one or more Agencies or the Federal Reserve Board to take further action on a complaint from an appraiser, other individual, financial institution, or other entities. Each appropriate Agency or the Federal Reserve Board will use the information to take further action on the complaint to the extent it relates to an issue within its jurisdiction. The Federal Reserve Board will be seeking approval for the Interagency Appraisal Complaint Form through a separate notice.

Comment Summary

In the Federal Register of October 22, 2012 (77 FR 64595), the Agencies published a 60-day notice requesting public comment on the Interagency Appraisal Complaint Form and the collection of information. The Agencies received one comment letter signed by two professional appraiser organizations.

The comment letter expressed the view that Congress intended that the ASC Hotline would be used solely for complaints concerning appraiser independence. The comment letter further recommended that the ASC report statistical summaries of information about the number and disposition of complaints received by the hotline, but that it refrain from disclosing the identities of the parties involved. Finally, the comment letter urged the Agencies to consider the impact on state agencies if the Interagency Appraisal Complaint Form is not limited to appraiser independence issues.

The Agencies carefully considered the comment received and note that this notice concerns only the development by the Agencies of the Interagency Appraisal Complaint Form. The Agencies note that the ASC is responsible for the development of the ASC Hotline, including establishing a process for receiving complaints, identifying the appropriate Federal or State regulator, referring the complaints to such regulator, and providing reports on the complaints received. The development of that process is outside the scope of this notice, and the Agencies cannot comment on behalf of the ASC, an independent agency. However, the Agencies note that the ASC is not responsible for developing the Interagency Appraisal Complaint Form.

The Agencies developed the Interagency Appraisal Complaint Form as a means to efficiently collect information in circumstances where the ASC determines the OCC, FDIC, or NCUA is the appropriate regulator. While the Interagency Appraisal Complaint Form is focused on complaints regarding appraisal independence standards and USPAP, the Agencies' responsibilities for considering complaints extends beyond these concerns, and the Agencies intend to consider all received complaints in a consistent manner, regardless of their source. As a practical matter, the Agencies expect to receive complaints concerning appraisers from a variety of sources, and that only some of those complaints will have been directed to the Agencies via the ASC Hotline. The Agencies believe it is important to use a form that is general and flexible enough to allow a complainant to express the nature of a complaint without restricting what types of complaints are allowable. Moreover, a State entity is not required to use the Interagency Appraisal Complaint Form and the Agencies' use of the form need have no impact on any existing State complaint processes. The Agencies and the Federal Reserve Board developed the Interagency Appraisal Complaint Form for their own use, and the burden estimates are limited to complaints each of the Agencies reasonably anticipates receiving from ASC Hotline referrals. Such estimates are not intended to encompass the total complaints received by the ASC through the ASC Hotline, the total number of complaints referred by the ASC to the appropriate regulator(s), or the total complaints expected to be received independent of ASC Hotline referrals.
