Dear Dr. [LAST NAME]:

In a few days, we will be requesting your participation in the 2013 Survey of Doctorate Recipients (SDR), sponsored by the National Science Foundation (NSF) and the National Institutes of Health. In the past, you contributed to this unique study of doctorate holders. Thank you—your answers provided government, business, and academic institutions with crucial information concerning the availability of highly educated personnel in a variety of fields.

The SDR has been conducted biennially since 1973 and is the only source of data on the careers of science, engineering, and health doctorate holders from U.S. academic institutions. The value of the information obtained over the years with the help of respondents like you is immeasurable. Your participation in this research helps to ensure the validity and accuracy of the survey results. Results from earlier studies are available at the NSF website listed below.

We will be sending you the questionnaire in the mail and will ask you to complete the 2013 SDR at that time. Because of their experience in directing studies of this type, we have asked the [CONTRACTOR'S NAME] to conduct this survey for us. The letter accompanying the questionnaire will explain more about this survey and our reasons for contacting you.

If you do not receive a questionnaire within two weeks or have any questions regarding this survey, please contact [CONTRACTOR'S NAME] via the toll-free number or email address listed below. Staff are available from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. (Central Time) to assist you.

I would greatly appreciate your continued participation in this significant research effort.

Sincerely,

Subra Suresh

Director

Dear Dr. [LAST NAME]:

I am requesting your participation in the 2013 Survey of Doctorate Recipients (SDR), sponsored by the National Science Foundation (NSF) and the National Institutes of Health. This survey of people who have earned research doctorates in the United States has been conducted biennially since 1973. The survey, and the data it obtains, provides government, business, and academic institutions with crucial information concerning the availability of highly educated personnel in a variety of fields. The Survey of Doctorate Recipients is the only source of data on this important population.

You were scientifically selected from a database that contains the name and degree information for all individuals earning a science, engineering, or health doctorate in the U.S. As such, we cannot substitute any other person for you. Your participation in this study will help ensure the validity and accuracy of the survey results. Results from earlier studies are available at the NSF website listed below.

Dear Dr. [LNAME],

I am requesting your participation in the 2013 Survey of Doctorate Recipients (SDR), sponsored by the National Science Foundation (NSF) and the National Institutes of Health. In the past, you contributed to this unique study of science, engineering, and health doctorate holders. Thank you for your past participation. Your answers provided government, business, and academic institutions with crucial information concerning the availability of highly educated personnel in a variety of fields. Results from earlier studies are available at the NSF website listed below.

To access the 2013 SDR survey, please go to the following URL address:

<https://websurvey.XXXX/2013sdr>

Because this format is secure and confidential, you'll need to use a unique Personal Identification Number (PIN) and Password to access the survey after you have gone to the URL address.

Your unique PIN and Password are...

PIN: [WEBPIN] Password: [WEBPWD]

The data you provide will be kept strictly confidential and safeguarded in accordance with the Privacy Act of 1974 and the Confidential Information Protection and Statistical Efficiency Act of 2002. Because we were not certain that this email address was still active, we have also sent online survey access information to your mailing address.

Your response to the 2013 SDR is needed whether you are working in or out of your doctoral field, are seeking employment, are retired, or are in another situation. Important measures from this study include how many doctorate holders are working, what field they are working in, and how career patterns change over time. We can only learn this from you.

If you have any questions regarding the survey or the Internet format, please contact [CONTRACTOR'S NAME] toll-free at 1-800-XXX-XXXX or respond to this email. Staff are available from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. (Central Time) to assist you. Or you can link to the SDR Frequently Asked Questions at:

Dear Dr. [LAST NAME],

Thank you for your participation in the 2010 Survey of Doctorate Recipients (SDR). Your responses helped academic and government institutions anticipate shortages in personnel, as well as make decisions about graduate student support and funding for research and development. The information you provided has also proven valuable for students who want to learn about the relationship between graduate education and careers.

At this time, we are asking for your participation in the 2013 SDR. The SDR is being conducted on behalf of the National Science Foundation (NSF) and the National Institutes of Health by the [CONTRACTOR'S NAME]. Regardless of your employment situation—whether you are working in or out of your doctoral field, are seeking employment, are retired, or are in another situation—your response is vital. Important measures from this study include the number of doctorate holders working, what fields they are working in, and how their career patterns change over time. We can only learn this from you. Results from earlier studies are available at the NSF website listed below.

Please complete the enclosed questionnaire and return it in the postage-paid envelope to [CONTRACTOR'S NAME].

If you have any questions about the survey, please contact [CONTRACTOR'S NAME] via the toll-free number or email address listed below. Staff are available from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. (Central Time) to assist you.

Thank you for your continued participation. We look forward to receiving your completed survey.

Sincerely,

John Gawalt
